Murder-suicide ends argument, drinking bout

A drinking bout early Saturday morning between two friends erupted into an apparent murder-suicide in a Romulus apartment, according to the out-county unit of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

Dead are Arlis D. Helton, 43, of 6679 Merriman, Romulus, scene of the double tragedy, and Dale A. Burkett, 31, of Taylor. Both men were pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital at 5:43 a.m., about a half hour after deputies arrived at the Helton apartment.

According to Detectives Larry Patterson and Charles Updike, who investigated the grisly slayings, two witnesses saw Burkett shoot Helton with a .357 Magnum revolver when they went upstairs from a first-floor apartment to answer cries of help from Helton.

After the two men fled the shooting, both heard a second shot. Detectives said it appeared that Burkett killed himself after shooting

Helton. The gun was found lying on the floor near Burkett's right hand. His body was lying on its stomach and he had suffered a gunshot wound to the head, the detectives said.

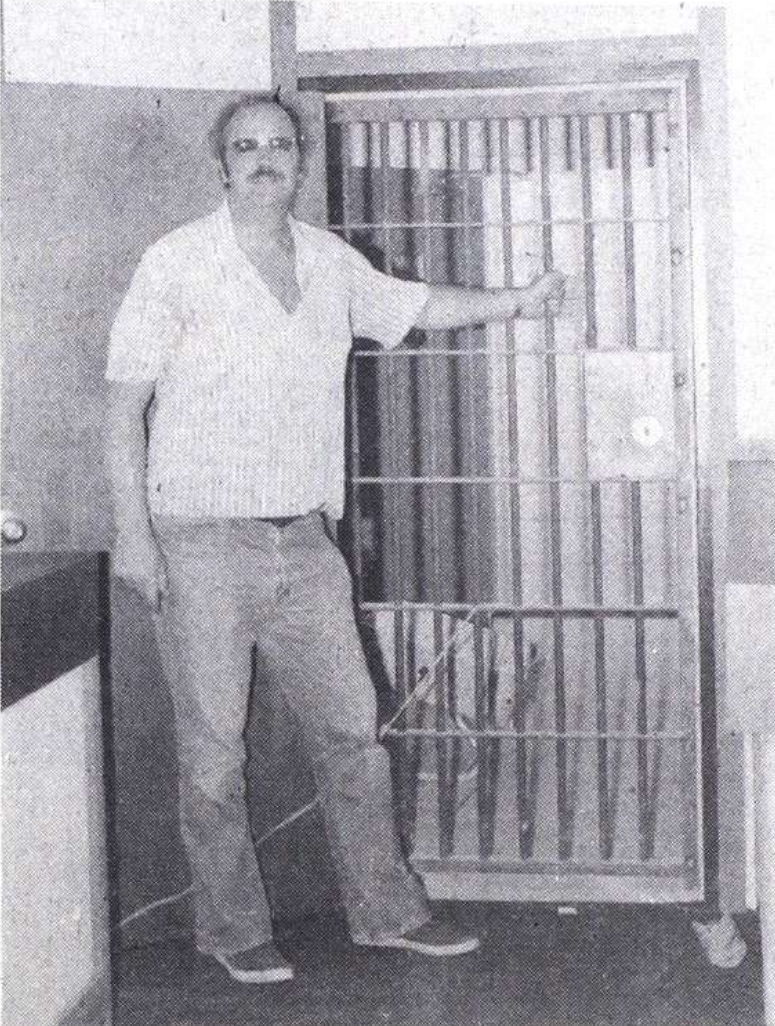

A 11-inch knife was found in Helton's left hand and his body was lying on its back with a gunshot wound and a slash wound on his throat.

Although the knife was found in Helton's hand, Detectives Patterson and Updike said it appeared that Burkett had inflicted the knife wounds on Helton before shooting him and then himself.

Other testimony was taken from several persons who heard an argument in the upstairs Helton apartment and from relatives and friends of the two dead men. Both men had previously worked together and been out together drinking on other occasions, the detectives said.

First to arrive on the shooting scene were Deputies Duane Thomas and William Kram.

The two detectives said their investigation had not turned up any reason for the argument and double slaying.

New Boston church marks 100th year

The St. Paul Lutheran Congregation of New Boston celebrated its 100th anniversary as a part of the community this Sunday, July 30.

Former Pastor Rev. Harold C. Bernthal, of Winter Haven, Florida, officiated at the services, which were followed by a special dedication of the carillon and a plaque honoring the descendants of the Rev. Henry G. Schuessler, who had served the congregation from 1901 to 1940.

A potluck dinner rounded off the celebration. Other events are scheduled for later this year.

Reaching back into history, the church's first congregation was formally organized at a meeting held in the New Boston Public School on April 29, 1878, with 12 men signing the first constitution.

Then, in June 1887, the congregation purchased the property on the northeast corner of Ellis and Craig streets, and contracted for the construction of its first House of Worship.

This original structure measured 28' x 46' x 18', with a tower, and cost $1,370.

Pastor Schuessler, in whose honor the Sunday services were held, was installed on December 15, 1901. In 1908, the church steeple was built and a bell added — the gift of the Young Peoples' Society. The bell was transferred to the new church in 1956, and is still in use.

Up till 1915, all services were conducted in German, but from then until 1921, the Gospel was preached in English once a month, then, eventually, twice monthly.

A Christian Day School, taught by the pastor almost wholly in German, operated until 1918. Then in the spring of 1927 the Sunday School was formally organized.

The Ladies Aid came into being on October 14, 1923, with 19 members.

The church lost its pastor of nearly 40 years on November 14, 1940, when Pastor Schuessler was fatally injured in an auto accident. Funeral services were held at the Church, and burial was in the Michigan Memorial Cemetery.

Weekly English services were introduced along with the new pastor, Rev. Bernthal, on February 6, 1941.

The congregation began looking to a newer and larger church in April 1942, when a building fund was established. However, World War Two scarcities and restrictions prevented new construction, so a balcony and a mother's room were added to the old building.

On May 30, 1946, Rev. Bernthal accepted a call to Our Savior Lutheran Church in Detroit, so on September 8 Pastor Walter L. Gienapp of Petosky was installed.

A year later a Christian Day School was reopened and continued until 1960.

The new church finally was enabled to go ahead with construction on April 3, 1949, was completed the following year on the South East corner of Ellis and Craig, and dedicated on September 24, 1950.

Pastor Gienapp left New Boston for Muskegon in November of 1958, and Pastor Daniel H.F. Richert of Wheeler, Michigan was installed in February, 1959.

Introduced during Pastor Richert's ministry were Thursday worship service, the Altar Guild, Adult Bible class, High School Bible Class, Junior and Treble Choirs and a Men's Club.

The church marked "paid" to its mortgage and burned it in a special ceremony June 18, 1961.

With the continuous growth of the Sunday School the youth program, a parish building was constructed and dedicated December 18, 1966.

Pastor Richert died suddenly on September 4, 1977, and services were delivered by his brother-in-law, Rev. Bernthal, on September 7.

The congregation is still without a resident pastor, but remains vital, with a present membership of about 1100 faithful.

For Van Born

Paving project is set

The cities of Westland and Romulus are cooperating with the Wayne County Road Commission and the State Department of Highways in a major resurfacing of Van Born road between Inkster and Middlebelt.

The Romulus City Council approved the joint agreement on July 5 and the Westland City Council followed suit on July 18, with the two other bodies of government.

According to William J. Engle Westland's Director of Public Services, the total estimated cost of the project will be $350,000.

"Because this is a Federal project," Engle said, "the Federal Government is paying $245,000, leaving a balance of $105,000."

"The county is to pay $74,500, and the cities of Romulus and Westland are to pay $15,250 each."

According to the job agreement signed by all four bodies of government, the widening and resurfacing of Van Born will provide four 12-foot lanes and eight road shoulders from approximately 200 feet west of Inkster to 200 feet east of Middlebelt road between Westland and Romulus.

Each municipality was requested to put down a 20 percent deposit, or $300,000.

Will add 96 units

Holiday to expand

Holiday Inn, north of Metro Airport at I-94 and Wickham in Romulus, will add 96 additional units and a holidome as part of an expansion program that will top $1 million.

Hyle Carmichaels, Romulus industrial coordinator, said the project was approved by the planning commission Monday night and is scheduled for completion in early 1979.

Also included in the expansion, he said, are a swimming pool, a skylight (part of the holidome), renovation of dining facilities and increased parking spaces for patrons' cars.

City offers smoke detectors at low prices

The city of Romulus is offering area residents an opportunity to purchase top quality smoke detectors and fire escape ladders at below normal retail prices. The offer is part of a "Save-A-Life" fire prevention program sponsored by the Romulus Fire Department.

The battery-operated, ionization type detectors are manufactured by the Honeywell Corporation and have received high ratings from both Consumer Research and Underwriters Laboratories.

The model being offered to Romulus residents includes the following unique features:

- A dual ionization chamber for earliest type of detection of all four stages of fire;
- A sensitivity calibrator that allows tuning the detector during a social gathering;
- An audible battery replacement signal that beeps once amineute for a minimum of 30 days when the battery is low;

- A 9-volt Mallory alkaline battery which lasts from 12 to 18 months;
- A large push-to-test disc for checking circuitry, sensing chamber, alarm and battery;
- A 16-page owner's manual and fire prevention guide with special baby sitter's guide included.

The fire escape ladders, also being offered for sale, come in 15-foot (two-story) and 25-foot (three story) sizes. The ladders sell for $11 and $15, respectively.

The smoke detectors will sell for $13.95, but a $5.00 rebate available from the company, will bring the final purchase price down to only $8.95 to Romulus residents.

Mayor William M. Oakley stressed, in announcing the program, that this is not a money-making venture, but offered by the city as a public service to increase incentive for residents to increase the fire protection of their homes.

Fire Chief John Wilhide echoed the mayor's comments by explaining that as a result of a recently passed city ordinance requiring smoke detectors in all new, resold or repaired homes (in excess of $3,000), that the fire department felt obligated to make detectors readily available as a convenience to residents of Romulus and surrounding communities, as well. The "Save-A-Life" sale will begin on Tuesday, Aug. 1, 1978, at Fire Station No. 4 located at 28777 Eureka Rd.

Depending upon citizen response, other fire stations may also be opened throughout the city at a later date to offer the fire safety devices.

For further information, call the fire chief's office at 941-0666, extension 51.

Nation-wide

Law heads issue deadly force guide

The American Law Enforcement Officers Association and the National Association of Chiefs of Police have distributed to every police and sheriffs department a recommended Guideline for the Use of Deadly Force. This includes 17,000 municipal departments and 3,000 county sheriffs and another 23,000 private security managers who may employ armed special officers.

Chief Robert Feguson, national president stated that the Guidelines on the Use of Deadly Force came as a result of a survey conducted by their association due to a series of incidents in which firearms have been discharged resulting in accidental deaths, or in some cases murder indictments and civil law suits.

"Basically" he stated, "we are spelling out to both the officer and to the community that the burden and responsibility placed on law enforcement officers who are armed is often in a stress situation. That the moment anyone fires a single round that person becomes the states judge, prosecutor, jury and often executioner. The law itself is tolerant of deadly force whenever a person is involved in the commission of a felony.

"Thus a person, not armed but who has engaged in a felony could be legally shot and killed. However, the U. S. Court of Appeals in St. Louis ruled that a fleeing felon who is NOT violent cannot be shot at. This upheld a decision on another case in Omaha where a 4 million dollar lawsuit was filed by the victims mother. Because of these and other cases we felt our police association should enact guidelines for our members and for all armed law enforcement personnel."

The guidelines now in effect are:

1. That each officer knows that it is his duty to try and make an arrest without use of force and then no more force than may be necessary. That only when the officers life is in danger or that of other persons will the officer consider use of a firearm.

2. That because officers are armed that they will maintain a high proficiency of training and never fire warning shots. That the state and community must bear the responsibility with the officer for his actions in their defense.

3. That if a felon is escaping and the officer is not able to stop him her that no attempt will be made to use deadly force unless the felon has a weapon, has used a weapon and is a clear danger to the community.

4. Finally, that those persons who arm themselves to carry out a crime do so at their own peril and the only response to persons who have a weapon is deadly force and that officers will shoot to kill in such cases. Armed felons leave no choice to police in such cases.

ANP sets tour for New York

This is the first call for passengers who will board an American Airlines flight to the Big Apple in the Associated Newspapers-sponsored tour of New York City this fall.

The trip will be Oct. 13-15, with travellers leaving Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 6 p.m. The flight will arrive at New York LaGuardia Airport at 7:27 p.m. where a bus will transport participants to the Abbey Victoria Hotel. After check-in, there will be a short walking tour of Broadway and Times Square.

The Saturday itinerary will include a tour of Manhattan, including Wall Street, the Bowery, Chinatown, the garment district, Statue of Liberty and the UN Building. There also will be a visit to the Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center and St. Patrick's Cathedral. Dinner will be at M a m a Leone's Restaurant, followed by a Broadway play.

Sunday's itinerary will be a day-long visit to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

The return flight from New York will leave about 6 p.m. that evening, will arrive in Detroit at 7:30 p.m.

Cost of the tour is $260 double occupancy.

For further information on the weekend visit to the "Big Apple", contact ANP tour director Gene Wertz at 729-4000.

Weight guidelines issued

We're having Weight Watchers members — and the public — asking about school lunches, and with the school year about to begin, Florine Mark, area director for Weight Watchers in this area, has some guidelines.

In most schools across the United States, a sound, nutritional meal is available through the school lunch programs. But in cases where either parent is responsible for preparing the lunch, Florine suggests three factors be kept in mind — and practiced:

1. A adequate nutritional content — selections from fruits and vegetables; whole

Racism is charged in England

There are more than two million Black and Asian people in Britain today and an increasing number of them feel their country is subjecting them to deliberate racism.

The international documentary series, "World," takes a look at these charges on the program titled "Blacks Britannica" airing Aug. 10, at 9 p.m. on Channel 56.

Although Britain has had a Black population for more than 400 years, it is only since the mid-1950s that large numbers have entered the industrial life of the country. In this post-war period, Britain needed labor and tens of thousands of Black workers came to the country to do the jobs the British workers were unavailable or unwilling to do.

However, the economic woes of the '70s have produced severe strains in British society. A shortage of jobs has created a demand for an immigration policy as white Britons increasingly see themselves competing with people they regard as foreigners.

3 Seek county seat from 26th District

In the race for county commissioner from the 26th District, which includes Romulus, incumbent Edgar L. Harris is challenged by Maynard A. Armstrong, Jr. and

RALPH J. LENNON

Ralph J. Lennon, Jr. for the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 8 primary.

There are no Republicans in the race.

Harris points to the recent $25 million program by Wayne County to give communities and schools their tax money at a specified time. "The Board of Commissioners approved the program to help each community in planning a more stable budget and have all their money earlier," he said.

Harris also says his involvement in his district and response to his constituents shows he's concerned about those he represents.

Lennon, 49, a 19-year resident of Taylor, is married and the father of four children.

He has been employed by the Taylor School District for the past eight years and is actively involved in Local 26 M AFL-CIO, member of the executive board, chairman of the building committee, chairman of PAC Committee, and delegate to Metropolitan Detroit AFL-CIO Council.

He is a member of the 15th District Democratic Party, Democratic Club of Taylor, Taylor Mosse Lodge 887, VFW Post 4422, K of C All Saints Council and St. Constance Church. He's also on the Taylor Planning Commission.

"I have been actively involved in politics and community affairs for many years and enjoy working with people and helping those I can," Lennon said.

"As Wayne County Commissioner, I would be able to work with and for the people of the 26th District and be in a position to help them and their communities."

Parade kicks off annual 4-H Fair

Wayne County will hold its 32 annual 4-H and Open Fair Aug. 14-19 at the fairgrounds on Quirk Road, just west of Belleville Road, in Van Buren Township.

The perennial gathering of animal exhibitors and agricultural displays will be kicked off with the usual huge parade Sunday, Aug. 13 down Main Street in Belleville.

Parade Chairman Norma Tyler said more entries are needed for the parade. "As acting parade chairman, I would like to extend an invitation to everyone to participate in our parade," she said.

"We are looking for floats, clowns, bands, antique cars, drill teams and other units to make the parade more exciting," Mrs. Tyler said parade entries will be judged, with first place receiving a blue ribbon; second, a red ribbon and third place, a white ribbon.

"Marching or horse units must be at least a unit of three to be eligible for judging," she added.

The parade will assemble at 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 13, at the parking lot of Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville. The parade will begin at 2 p.m. down Columbia to Main Street, across Belleville Lake bridge to north I-94 service drive and then west to the fairgrounds.

Following the parade, the Wayne County Fair Association will sponsor a Pig Roast for all those participating in the parade. Also in the planning stage, but not confirmed, is an antique tractor pull which will be free of charge or a nominal fee.

If you are interested in entering the parade, please contact Mrs. Tyler (397-1737) or Mrs. Judy Norros (461-9953), after 4 p.m., as soon as possible.

The annual fair draws thousands of spectators and hundreds of participants in events ranging from animal training and pet control to agricultural exhibits of all kinds. Belleville 4-H County Fairgrounds is located on Quirk Road, about one-half mile west of Belleville Road and just north of I-94.

Best route to take is I-94 north service drive west from Belleville Road to Quirk Road. The fairgrounds are just a few hundred feet north of the I-94 north service drive, in Van Buren Township.

UN ambassador to visit Detroit

Andrew Young, the globe-trotting American ambassador to the United Nations, will be coming to Detroit in September. The Metropolitan Detroit YMCA is sponsoring a "salute to Detroit" as part of the 125th anniversary of the founding of the YMCA in the Motor City.

The Ambassador has agreed to address a dinner to be held at Cobo Hall on Sept. 29. The announcement was made by Jack Otto, Chairman of the Metropolitan YMCA, who noted that actor Lou Gossett Jr. will be the master of ceremonies for the $50 a ticket dinner.

The dinner and surrounding activities are being planned by a special committee of the YMCA, headed by Dr. William G. Anderson, a Detroit osteopathic physician and surgeon and boyhood friend of Andrew Young.

'Y' seeks members at discount rates

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA is urging families in the communities of Wayne, Westland, Inkster, Garden City, Belleville, Romulus and Canton Township, to join now and take advantage of discounted membership rates in effect until October.

There are various membership categories available, depending on the services wanted. Memberships are offered to families, single adults and youths.

YMCA members are eligible for reduced rates and advanced registration for:

A variety of Y leisure classes and activities offered several times a year, for the Indian Guides and Princesses programs, and Trail Blazers and Y camps.

The newly constructed swimming pool, due to open soon, will be another feature available for Y members, as well as swimming instruction.

Information on membership rates is available at the Y offices, 827 S. Wayne Road in Westland (between Palmer and Cherry Hill) or by calling 721-7044.

In addition to the membership fee, all full family and adult members are required to pay a one-time capital contribution fee, payable over a three-year period.

Current Y members are reminded, too, that membership must be renewed yearly.

Only 3 Republicans

15 Primary hopefuls to do battle on Aug. 8

Fifteen candidates, 12 Democrats and three Republicans, are gearing up for the final push before next Tuesday's primary election in Huron Township to see who will guide the political fortunes of the community.

Supervisor John Puskar has decided not to seek re-election to that post, but will run for a trustee seat instead. Vying for the top elected spot in Huron are Democrat George Moore, former township clerk and supervisor, of Ellis Rd., New Boston, and Republican Roy Baker of Wahrman, Romulus.

Since neither is opposed for his party's nomination in the primary, the two will square off in the November election.

In the race for township clerk, incumbent Democrat Sandra Rhodes, of Evans, New Boston, is being challenged by Mary Lou Carey, of Gentz Rd., New Boston, for their party's nomination.

On the Republican ticket, Shirley Ann Burgess, of Waltz Road, New Boston, is unopposed and will meet the winner of the Democratic primary in November.

No Republicans are running for the treasurer's job which is presently held by Democrat Richard F. Sullivan, of Sibley Rd., New Boston. Challenging Sullivan for the Democrat nomination in the treasurer's race is Alice M. McGrew, of Waltz Road, New Boston.

Six candidates are seeking nomination for a township trustee seat. Romayne Stoker, the lone Republican, is unopposed for her party's nomination.

Meanwhile, Democrat Puskar and incumbent Ronald Tabor, of West Road, New Boston, lead five Democrats seeking trustee posts. The other three are Sidney Dent, of Sommers Rd., New Boston; Donald Radabaugh, of Waltz Road, New Boston; and Fred Ashby, of Waltz Road, New Boston.

The only candidates for constable are Democratic incumbents Devere Willard, of Huron River Drive, New Boston, and William Manny, of Ash, New Boston, who are seeking re-election to their positions.

Mahalak in 8th try

5 After nomination for 38th State Rep

Three Democrats and two Republicans are battling for their respective party's nomination for the office of state representative from the 38th District, which includes the city of Romulus.

Vying for the state office on the Democratic ticket at the Aug. 8 primary are incumbent Edward E. Mahalak, seeking his eighth term, and two city officials — Clerk Leonard J. Folmar and Councilman Gervazio Canejo.

Seeking the Republican nod are Dorothy M. Rush of Huron Township and George W. Versteeg of Ida Township.

Mahalak points to his involvement in the community and passing legislation to help his constituents as evidence of his effectiveness in the House of Representatives.

Folmar, city clerk of Romulus since it became a city in 1970, is highly respected among his peers and has been named to several state and national clerks' associations. The 37-year-old Folmar, the father of two sons, feels his administrative experience is needed on the state level as a representative.

Canejo, 47, is serving his third term on Romulus City Council and says the "little man" is being neglected and eaten up by taxes.

He believes he can be more effective in representing his constituents on the state level.

On the Republican ticket, Versteeg has been a resident of the 38th District since 1946 and graduated from the Romulus School District in 1954.

Married for 12 years and the father of two children, he has a B. A. degree in industrial design from MSU, a B.A. in philosophy and religion from the University of Detroit and a B.D. from Oberlin Graduate School of Theology.

"I believe that our government must provide a high moral climate, both in its inner dealings and in its legislation or it cannot reasonably hope to encourage these same qualities among the people," Versteeg said.

"I believe that the two most significant issues facing the voters this year are the tax limitation amendment and the proposed voucher system. I favor the passage of the former and the rejection of the latter," Versteeg concluded.

In the 22nd District, Rep. Gary Owen (D-Psilyanti), is unopposed for his party's nomination. No Republican is in the race, which includes precincts 7 and 13 in Romulus.

Helping Hand to hold sale

The Helping Hand Thrift Shop, 37510 Huron River Dr., Romulus, will hold a sidewalk sale every Monday, Thursday and Friday during August, according to Florence Klein, director.

From 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on sale days, such bargains will be offered as summer dresses, shorts, gym shoes and blouses for 10 cents each, full grocery bags for $1 each and many other items, she said. For additional information, call 941-5323.

Sidewalk sales to open

The second annual "Downtown Romulus Sidewalk Sale" will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 3-5, 1978, in the old downtown shopping district. Besides great sale prices offered by local merchants, the area will take on a festive atmosphere, culminating on Saturday night with a square dance, carnival rides and refreshments. Goddard Road between Shook and Romaine will be closed to vehicular traffic creating a people's mall for the festivities.

Must be reimbursed

County pays unpaid taxes to local units

Wayne County Commissioner Edgar L. Harris has announced that the Board of Commissioners has approved payment of all delinquent city and school taxes due up to May of 1978.

The general obligation tax notes — which total $25,060,000 — were issued for the purpose of obtaining funds to establish the county's Tax Payment Fund of 1977 delinquent ad valorem taxes on real property within Wayne County, levied by units of government other than the City of Detroit and the Detroit School District.

As a result, local school districts and municipalities will immediately receive taxes due through last May, Harris added that all delinquent taxes due to schools and municipalities will be paid at the end of May every year hereafter.

"The Board of Commissioners approved the program to help each community in planning a more stable budget," Harris said.

Romulus Community Schools will receive $628,001.40 and the City of Romulus will get $219,649.07.

Huron Schools will receive $211,597.64 and Huron Township $88,957.46.

Van Buren School District is slated to get $410,105.87, City of Belleville, $27,277.68; Van Buren Township, $69,819.40 and Sumpter Township, $65,742.82.

The notes are general obligation and pledge the full faith and credit of Wayne County for the prompt payment of principal and interest.

The tax notes are issued against anticipated revenue and $10,000,000 plus interest, is scheduled to be paid off in both 1979 and 1980, with the remaining $5,060,000, plus interest, due to mature in 1981.

Baptist Chapel sets five-day revival

Romulus Baptist Chapel will hold revival services tonight through Sunday at 7:30 p.m. daily.

The chapel is located in Harrison Elementary School, 14701 Harrison, one block north of Eureka Road in Romulus. Guest speaker for the services will be Rev. Chris Tecmire, pastor of Fellowship Baptist Chapel, Oxford, Mich.

Guest singer each evening will be Rev. Harold Crane.

Evangelist Tecmire, 27, is married and the father of one son. He grew up in this area, graduating from Grosse Ile High School in 1969.

He earned a B.A. degree at Dallas Baptist College in 1975 and later attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Rev. Tecmire also has two years toward his Master of Divinity degree.

His pastoral experience includes serving as assistant pastor of First Baptist Church, Dallas, Tex. for more than three years and pastor of First Baptist Church, Lucas, Tex. for two years before assuming the pastorate of Fellowship Baptist Chapel in Oxford, Mich. two years ago.

Pastor Herbert C. Copeland is the minister of Romulus Baptist Chapel and cordially invites the public to come as his special guests to the nightly services.

Picnic is popular

One of the most popular activities at the 10 Huron-Clinton Metroparks is picnicking, according to James J. Pompo deputy director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

He pointed out that with Kensington Metropark limiting space for additional picnics several days this month, that persons may wish to contact the other metroparks.

Picnicking is permitted only in designated areas at the metroparks. Picnic groups of 50 or more persons should register at the metropark office and preferably several weeks in advance of the date desired — to be sure space is available.

For details contact these Metropark offices: Metro Beach near Mt. Clemens (963-3022 or 463-4581); Stony Creek near Rochester-Utica (781-4242); Kensington Metropark near Brighton Milford (683-1561); Hudson Mills near Dexter, Ann Arbor (426-8211) or Lower Huron and Willow metroparks between Belleville and New Boston (697-9181).

Would include veterans programs

Cong. Bill Ford proposes department of education

Congr. William D. Ford (D-15th District), chairman of the House Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education, has introduced legislation to create a Department of Education. In contrast to other Department of Education proposals now under discussion, the Ford bill would transfer the veterans education programs to the new department.

The 15th District Michigan congressman emphasized that a Department of Education must be "comprehensive" if it is to succeed in establishing a high priority for education in the Federal government and in reducing the current fragmentation of Federal education programs.

While praising the administration for its initiative in this area, Congr.

Ford said, "Any Department of Education worth of the name must include the veterans programs which last year provided $3 billion in educational benefits to some 1.6 million veterans and others."

Citing comprehensive oversight hearings held by his Subcommittee last summer, Congr. Ford declared, "Implementation of veterans education programs by the Veterans Administration demonstrates a gross lack of sensitivity and understanding of the needs of the student-veteran and of the nature of postsecondary education and institutions."

Other highlights of the Ford bill are:

- Establishment of a separate office for rehabilitation and education of the handicapped,

- The transfer of migrant education programs to the Department of Education from the Department of Labor,

- Creation of a National Council on Education Research, Development and Dissemination, and
- Emphasis on involvement of the nonpublic educational sector in the development and implementation of departmental policy.

Ice cream soda perfect for summer refreshment

The perfect symbol of summer is an ice cream soda. Make a cherry soda by stirring chopped maraschino cherries and some of the syrup with a scoop of vanilla ice cream in a tall glass. Add sparkling soda water to half fill the glass, another big scoop of ice cream, and a straw.

Cheese dogs are a favorite on the outdoor grill. Make a soft dough with biscuit mix and milk and add 1/2 cup grated Cheddar Cheese. Wrap each hot dog in the stiff dough and wind a strip of bacon around it to hold firmly. Roast on a long stick or fork over the coals till dough browns.

The very special flavor of buttermilk is a welcome summer refresher. Blend one pint of buttermilk with 1/4 cup of pineapple juice and several scoops of pineapple sherbet for a cooling thirst quencher.

Diet tip: Plain yogurt and fresh fruit make a low cal - high protein snack any time of day.

TODAY'S Real Estate

by M. Phyllis Crabtree

Did you ever hear of a "Handyman's special"? This is a house that needs a lot of work, but can be bought for less than houses that are in better shape. It is this last point that is what makes a handyman's special so tempting to many people. Actually, many of the older houses in this class have a charm and style that is hard to find in some modern houses. Often, the handyman's work involves just some basic redecorating and a lot of elbow grease cleaning. Sometimes the work can be done by the lay person, with a little advice, perhaps from some friends. So don't be afraid of one of these specials. It might turn out to be very special indeed.

Why not call upon CENTURY 21 COMMUNITY REALTORS, 10675 Belleville Road, Belleville, and let us acquaint you with all the information that pertains to buying, selling, deeds, mortgages and such. Our office is open 7 days a week from 9 to 9. We have the experience, ability and statistics necessary to evaluate your property effectively. Phone 697-2121.

Outdoors booklet available

Everything you need to know about the outdoors in southeast Michigan—but didn't know whom to ask—is available free from the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association.

It's all found in the new booklet, "Outdoors in Southeast Michigan," a publication which covers camping, boating, fishing, canoeing and hunting in the nine-county region. Expanded in size this year, the booklet lists area water access sites, best fishing lakes and streams, marinas and marinas suppliers, charter boat operations, species of fish available, fishing tips, tackle shops and equipment stores, state, county and private campsites, canoeing waters and hunting rules and regulations.

The booklet is a handy 4 by 9 inches and fits neatly into information rack, desk drawer, auto glove compartment or map case. It covers the counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Lenawee, Livingston, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Sanilac.

2. Awareness of energy needs if a child is overweight, an appropriate, calorie-controlled lunch—including fresh fruit desserts and vegetable snacks—should be developed.

3. Allowing the young people to participate in creating lunch-box or brown-bag meals—Florine urges parents to ask their children to take part in planning a weekly luncheon menu and actually helping buy the various foods. And that means getting the boys into the kitchen, too.

Florine adds that "training young people to be conscious about eating habits is not easy, but it's a job parents, teachers and all of us should keep in mind this school year. Too often, we buy the new clothes, pencils and books, but forget about the food; and ingredient that has a vital impact on performance during the entire school year... and a lifetime."

Chemistry identifies personal property

A revolutionary, simple, inexpensive and infallible method of identifying lost or stolen property is now available, it was announced by William Wilson, chairman of the Board of Security & Fire Systems Corporation of 1749 Hamilton Road, Okemos, Mich.

“This year 11 million victims of theft will lose over $3 billion in personal property. Industry and business will lose millions more,” Wilson said.

Chem-Print, which is being marketed by Wilson’s firm, is positive proof of ownership and may be used in a court of law. In fact, during the test marketing of Chem-

Print it resulted in the arrest and conviction of two offenders in the Alabama Supreme Court and in Tennessee District Court.

Every day police departments recover thousands of dollars of stolen and lost property. But because they cannot identify the rightful owner, the property cannot be returned and the thief is set free. When Chem-Print has been applied to the property, normal police investigative procedures expose the “trigger” element contained in every Chem-Print formula.

Simple analysis at one of more than 320 crimelabs around the country will then reveal the specific and individualized formula that has been used. The National Data Bank then supplies the police with the name and address of the formula’s registered owner within minutes.

“The beauty of this system,” Wilson said, “is in the fact that no matter where in the country the stolen property is recovered, it can be traced to its rightful owner.”

Five years of extensive research have resulted in a new, proven and patented method of identification — a technique which literally fingerprints property. Chem-Print is an entirely new concept in identifying and recovering lost and stolen property.

Only a small amount of Chem-Print brushed onto any surface carries the owner’s personal seal for individual identification yet it is invisible to the untrained eye. Chem-Print is nonabrasive and can be used safely on jewelry, furs, valuable papers, silver, etc. — in fact, any personal or commercial property.

“The fantastic thing about Chem-Print,” Wilson said, “is that each bottle contains a totally unique formula of chemical trace elements as distinct and individual as a fingerprint — no two are ever alike.”

MUSICAL NOTES

by Doug Brown

Life is music. The very rhythm of our heart beat is the basis for that collection of sounds we call music. As far back as Plato, great philosophers have lectured on the powerful effect that music can have on a life or a feeling. In the weeks and months to come it will be our pleasure to discuss music in all its variety with you. From great composers and musical movements to a discussion of the use of various instruments to make music ever more meaningful to you is our aim. Won't you join us?

Our staff at DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 would like to welcome you as regular readers of this most informative column and to invite you to stop by and say hello. We are a full line music store carrying pianos, organs, speakers and all kinds of sheet music. Visa and Master Charge honored.

Editorial opinions

SEMTA promises, Wind sandwiches, demand action

For some time now, the advocates of an expanded SEMTA transportation system have been dealing promises for votes in Lansing. But few of those promises have been kept.

Remember the extended Wayne Road bus system promised Romulus in exchange for that district's vote in support of SEMTA's grand scheme for a metro-transit system that would make Coleman Young look good?

Remember the SEMTA promise for a service loop off of I-94 to serve Belleville residents who needed transportation to either Detroit or Ann Arbor?

Well, those promises, and still others yet to come, were intended to gain support in the state house, but apparently meant nothing more.

It is fortunate for the residents of the Belleville-Romulus areas that they have a man representing them in Lansing who has had enough of the SEMTA promises, and now is demanding that those promises result in action.

From the first, Representative Edward Mahalak has led the fight to hold SEMTA's feet to the flames in gaining promised transportation for his constituents. He says he is no longer willing to accept promises.

We support Mahalak's efforts to bring SEMTA, and the return of our federal tax dollars, to the community. We also support Mahalak's new philosophy in dealing with the Detroit, and Coleman Young, dominated group who call themselves the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

Promises are fine the first time. But when promises are forgotten, it is time to demand action.

Naming of Peets provides new hope for V.B. residents

With the naming of Dr. Elvin F. Peets to the post of Superintendent of Van Buren Schools, the community is provided opportunity of gaining open public involvement in the operation of the school system which has in the past been accused of running a closed shop.

While there were some questions surrounding the salary which the school board authorized for the new superintendent, his credentials are good and the citizens of that district stand a very good chance of being welcomed back to meaningful participation in the operation of the Van Buren schools.

We at Associated Newspapers would like to join the rest of Van Buren in welcoming Peets to the community. We are especially pleased with Peet's comments regarding his general philosophy of dealing with the people who will be paying his salary.

In an interview with the Enterprise, Peets said, "The school system is a public institution run with tax dollars, it is my goal to be as responsive to the parents and children as possible."

We look forward to the arrival of Peets and his new approach to dealing with the citizens of the community.

For too long, the citizens of Van Buren were only second class in the eyes of those entrusted to operate the schools.

'Involved citizen' nominations sought

We, like most organizations and interested citizens, are often guilty of overlooking the positive while in 'hot pursuit' of the negative.

In an effort toward correcting this understandable, but poor characteristic of the human race, Associated Newspapers would like to reserve a portion of this page for recognizing the outstanding contributions of people within our circulation areas.

In the coming weeks we hope to provide readers with a look at the accomplishments of their neighbors and friends. The person that we select for recognition, need not be an elected official or business leader. In our daily lives we often encounter people who have provided their communities with a part of themselves on a regular basis without any thought of self reward. Those are the people that Associated would salute for community involvement.

We invite our readers to send us their nominations for Involved Citizen of the Month.

It is not often that we find someone who is willing to work for nothing more than a pat on the back. We should be able to at least supply the pat.

Associated Newspapers is committed to community involvement. We believe there is no other way to insure that the cities and townships that we may call home, will survive.

Working together we can build a better community.

Veteran's legislation approved by lawmakers

By EDWARD E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

Several bills which affect veterans and their survivors have been approved by the Legislature.

One of the bills, which would expand tax benefits to many veterans, has been signed into law. It increases tax credits for eligible veterans, servicemen and surviving spouses who rent or lease their homes.

There had already existed a special schedule to allow such persons to claim credits against their state income tax for as much as 100 percent of their property taxes. In order to qualify, a person must report household income of no more than $7,500 a year, unless the person is receiving compensation for a service-connected disability.

The special schedule provides for a state equalized valuation (SEV) allowance of from $2,500 to $4,500, depending upon service, status and disability. The tax credit is figured by dividing the SEV allowance by the actual SEV of the homestead, and multiplying that percentage by the property taxes the claimant pays.

However, if the same persons rent or lease their homes, they must use the less favorable method of computation, which yields a credit of only 60 percent of the amount by which rent exceeds 3.5 percent of income.

The new law allows eligible veterans, service personnel and surviving spouses to use the same schedule as those who own their homes. They would figure the credit by dividing the SEV allowance specified in the schedule by 17 percent of the yearly rent, divided by the property tax rate on the home being rented, and then multiplying the result by the property taxes paid by the owner of the property.

The new law eliminates an inequity by allowing qualified veterans, widows and servicemen who rent to use the same method of figuring their tax credits as those who own their households.

Another newly-signed law continues the property tax exemption on housing specially adapted for a disabled veteran for the veteran's widow as long as she remains unmarried. Formerly, the exemption ended at the death of the veteran.

In order that they might move about as freely as possible, some disabled veterans require housing with such special features as wheelchair ramps, extra-wide doors, attached garages, whirlpool baths and other aids. The specially adapted housing is usually financed in part with grants from the federal government. Michigan exempts this type of housing from the property tax.

Before the new law, the tax exemption ceased at the death of the veteran, forcing the widow to begin paying taxes on the property. Moreover, many financial benefits cease with the death of the veteran, and the widow must make do with a reduced income at the same time she faced the burden of property tax payments.

Also approved by the House and Senate was a bill which would make it easier for survivors of veterans to obtain an allowance for burial expenses for the veteran.

The law requires county boards of commissioners or county auditors to pay $300 to partially defer burial costs for eligible veterans and their widows. One of the eligibility requirements is that they have an estate of no more than $35,000.

As inflation increases, this limitation becomes more and more unreasonable, especially given the rising value of real estate, which is part of the estate. The ownership of even a modest home by the survivors can easily put the value of an estate beyond $35,000, making them ineligible for the burial allowance.

The bill excludes real estate owned by the deceased person from the calculation of the value of the estate.

Because homesteads would be excluded from the value of the estate, the bill specifies that to be eligible for burial benefits, the value of the estate could not exceed $25,000, rather than the current $35,000.

It is clear that if an estate includes a homestead, very few estates, except those of the truly indigent, would be valued at less than $35,000, yet may lack sizeable cash assets. Such people may need and deserve the county burial allowance, and should not be forced to go into debt to pay burial expenses. This, in effect, penalizes a veteran or surviving spouse who owns a home.

Meanwhile, the House has approved and sent to the Senate a bill which would encourage self-reliance and independence in legally incapacitated veterans.

Such veterans are currently prohibited from handling even a part of their own monetary affairs, even though other law allows other mentally or physically disabled persons to handle some of their own affairs.

This situation is especially unfortunate in that when a veteran is cared for in a facility or institution, he may be some distance from his family or guardian. Although they may well be able to handle enough money to purchase needed personal items, they are not legally permitted to do so. Instead, they are forced to request such money from the guardian who controls the Veterans Administration funds received by the incapacitated veteran every time they have to buy something.

The bill approved by the House would allow a probate court to authorize the veteran to function without the consent or supervision of his guardian in the handling of part of the veteran's money, including maintaining a savings or checking account.

A good-bye to a dear friend

To the Editor:

How do you say good-bye to one of the dearest friends you or your children ever had? You don't...because he will be leaving a part of himself behind.

He'll leave the goals and objectives of wanting a sound fulfilling experience of an elementary education for our children.

A memory book filled to overflowing of memories and one of a kind experiences of love, fun and gratification.

The goals of making each year a better school year, and of making Van Buren one of the best school systems around.

Though the hallways are empty, you can hear the echoes of laughter, respect and love from all he touched.

Students, staff and parents, to the little preschooler, soon to start their kindergarten experience.

Thank-you, Sam, for all you are, all you've been, and all you've given us. We feel very grateful for the time you were ours, and we know that you'll always be there, touching, reaching and helping future citizens of tomorrow.
I am sure that I speak for all Edgemont

School's staff, students, and parents when I say "Thank-you, Sam LoPresto, for touching our lives; and that you will be sorely missed. We wish you well."

Honored—thanks 125 friends

To the Editor:

In honor of my 25 years of service to the city of Romulus, I want to again express my heartfelt thanks to the 125 people that helped me celebrate. Especially the persons who originated the whole party so successfully. Are as follows: Mickey Reel as the master of ceremonies, Hyle Carmichael, Jean Braithwaite, Rita McLenon, Nita Laine, Ed Fall, Russ Makowski and Bill Case.

Also special thanks to the people who bought a ticket, but were unable to attend. Many thanks to the people who sent cards and gifts.

I certainly have been richly blessed with a loving family and loving friends. I hope to continue to give the citizens of Romulus my best efforts and service in the future.

God bless all,
Miss Elvera A. Fischer

Editor's Log

He went to the mountainand returned

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

I have talked in the past about the interesting things which turn up from time-to-time in the Associated Newspapers' mail bag. From the sad to the ultimate in joy. From the serious to the ludicrous, the mail bag produces it all. But this week brought an item that should be discussed. The flyer cover read, "At last a choice worth a worker's vote."

Included with the flyer was a three page zerox copy of a new release from the Communist Labor Party (CLP).

Now I have never been the type of person who sees red at the very mention of the unmentionable word 'Communist', but following a quick reading of the release, I turned a pale shade of red, white, and blue.

Apparently the intent of the release was to discredit the American criticism of the recent trials of two Russian dissidents. The basis for the theme presented by the writer, one Mrs. Nancy Singham of Highland Park, Michigan, was that Americans had no right whatsoever to criticize the Russian trials when America can so generously boast of its thousands of political prisoners also.

A strange concept, I thought. A thief cannot criticize a thief, nor politician criticize another politician, and we all know the story about reformed drunks.

In addition to the generally negative approach taken by the author on every subject from the Taft Hartley Act to outlawing the Nazi Party, the flyer listed what it called six good reasons for voting for its candidates.

In spite of the author's urging to nationalize the energy industry, education and just about everything other than labor unions, one of the good reasons for voting for the party was to preserve democracy.

A second good reason for voting the CLP ticket was that a vote for them was a vote for Socialism and the outlawing of the Nazi's and "other right-wing gangs that exist for the sole purpose of attacking minorities."

In going through the material supplied by the Communist Labor Party, the thought occurred to me that this blanket we Americans call democracy, and that which we have grown used to curling up under when things get cool, is a strange item indeed.

As well as protecting us and our families, it also protects those who would subvert the principles which have allowed this system to generate people like Andrew Young and Martin Luther King.

Since the release was apparently timed to take the best advantage of the recent controversial remarks made by the U.S.

Ambassador to the United Nations, Andrew Young, regarding the "thousands of political prisoners confined to American jails", its message was diluted by the poor application of logic.

If we are all guilty of making mistakes, then by the logic presented by the Communists, none of us is qualified to suggest a course that might avoid those mistakes in the future. And as a matter of fact, all of us represent the sum total of the knowledge we have gained from making those mistakes and it is only through the application of that hindsight that we are able to progress.

The Reverend Martin Luther King said, "I have been to the mountain."

I, for one, think that he probably had. If so, from that lofty vantage point he had not seen, on the face of the earth, another system which offered more potential for the eventual resolution of man's problems than ours, or he would have led his flock to it.

No, the very strength of our system is its apparent weakness. Our strength is our confidence that we can tolerate dissent without destroying the values we hold.

The trials of the two Russian dissidents do not constitute the story. It is the absence of organized protest in Russia that says it all.

Social Security changes to affect retired farmers

The way that retired farmers' earnings affect their Social Security benefits has been changed. And Dr. Mike Kelsey, Michigan State University Extension agricultural economist, suggests that farmers who have already retired, or who are planning to retire, get acquainted with the new rules.

Under the old law, retired farmers—as well as teachers, construction workers, life insurance salespeople and others—could earn as much as they wanted on a seasonal or monthly basis. Their earnings would affect their benefits only for those months in which they worked. They would receive full benefits the rest of the year.

Under the new law, if these retired persons earn more than the allowed amount during any period of the year, the benefits are reduced for the total year, regardless of whether they worked every month or not. The allowed amount varies with the age of the retiree. For those under age 65, it is $3,240. For persons aged 65 to 72, the maximum earning is $4,000.

For people over 72, there is no income limit.

Under the old rules, a cherry grower, for example, could work from April through August and earn any amount of money. Depending on the level of benefits to which he was entitled, those earnings would significantly reduce or even cancel his benefits for those five months. During the other seven months when he was not working, however, he could draw his full benefits.

Under the new rules, that fruit grower's summer earnings, if over the allowable limit for retirees in his age group, would reduce his monthly benefits for the entire year. His benefits would be reduced $1 for every $2 he earned. Please note, that it is earnings rather than work that affects Social Security benefits.

Farmers who are planning for retirement need to be aware of this change so that they can plan to sell their crop inventory before they apply for retirement benefits. If you need additional information, please contact you county agent, at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, at 721-6550.

Planned law would help buying homes

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) has co-sponsored legislation aimed at assisting middle-income Americans in purchasing homes and in helping to rejuvenate deteriorating urban neighborhoods.

Entitled the Housing Opportunity Act of 1978, the bill would authorize low-interest mortgages for up to 400,000 homes each year, with a least 100,000 of these required to be in urban areas.

"The cost of the treasury would be minimal," Congressman Ford said, "since the government would recover its money when the home is again sold. Over the years, this program would thus become self-sustaining."

The interest subsidy would be on a sliding scale, based on the price of the home, with the largest subsidy going to the lowest priced home. Homebuyers under the program would have their interest rate cut three points the first year, and then gradually pay more, at the rate of a quarter-point each year, until the three percent is made up.

"This program will provide a great impetus for the homebuilding industry," Congressman Ford said "and also will make home ownership more accessible to those many Americans who cannot now afford to buy their own home."

Legislature acts to cut teen accidents

The Michigan Legislature has taken two approaches to solve the problem of the high accident rate among young drivers.

That's the word from State Rep. Edward Mahalak of the House's 38th District.

The Romulus Democrat said that legislation has been signed into law, raising the legal drinking age from 18 to 19 years in an attempt to lessen the impact of what can be the double-dangerous combination of new drinkers and new drivers.

The new law will take effect Dec. 3.

The second approach, according to Mahalak, in a bill approved by the House and sent to the State Senate, provides for an extended but modified probationary period for new drivers.

Current law provides for a one-year probationary period for beginning drivers, during which they can be called in by the Secretary of State for interviews, if they receive three violation points.

After the probationary period is over, those drivers, regardless of their ages, receive regular driver licenses and are not subject to further re-evaluation unless they compile 12 points within two years.

Under the proposal, the one-year probationary period would not be changed, but there would be modified probation for the next two years.

Bonner replaces Gullen as WSU head

Leadership of Wayne State University changed hands officially on Tuesday, Aug. 1, when Dr. Thomas N. Bonner, academic administrator and historian, becomes the seventh president of Michigan's third largest university.

He succeeds George E. Gullen Jr., who is retiring after seven years as president.

Bonner brings to WSU a wealth of experience both in the academic and administrative areas of university operations. Since July 1974 he has been president of Union College, Schenectady, N.Y., and chancellor of Union University, a group of area member institutions offering cooperative educational programs.

Gullen, the first WSU graduate to serve as its president (Law '36), leaves a university he led firmly forward in a difficult period. Despite severe financial strictures WSU maintained its high academic reputation. 10 major campus structures were begun or completed

during this presidency and the campus underwent a dramatic facelift through a $2 million beautification program.

Dr. Bonner, 55, began his academic career in 1951 as an academic dean at William Woods College in Fulton, Mo. In 1954 he was appointed a Fulbright Lecturer in American Civilization at the University of Mainz, Germany, and in 1955 was a lecturer at the Salzburg Seminar in Austria.

That fall he returned to the United States to become professor of history and head of social sciences at the University of Nebraska-Omaha, positions he held until 1962 when he left to conduct an unsuccessful campaign for Congress from Nebraska's 2nd District.

In 1963 he was named professor and chairman of the history department at the University of Cincinnati and in 1968 became the university's provost and vice president. In 1971 he accepted the presidency at the University of New Hampshire, where he remained until he took the helm at Union College.

Dr. Bonner holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Rochester (N.Y.), where he was born, and earned a doctoral degree from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. He served in the U.S. Army in Europe from 1943 to 1946.

Gullen, 64, joined Wayne State in August 1966 as vice president for university relations. He was named acting president in July 1971 and president in April 1972.

He was with American Motors Corporation from 1955 to 1966, leaving as vice president for industrial relations. He earlier was with Detroit Controls Corporation for 20 years as director of industrial relations.

Bell Telephone rival requests fair play

Michigan congressmen were urged by a Bell System business rival to support legislation in Washington that would enforce fair competition on the telephone industry.

Joseph Choma, president of the Michigan Independent Communications Association, said, "The alternative to competition as proposed by the Bell System, would mean a return to monopoly and more runaway communications costs for business and home consumers."

Choma, who also is president of his own telephone equipment firm, Executone-Lansing, Inc., said the recently introduced Communications Act of 1978 "offers Congress the opportunity to write into law the broadened competition in telecommunications ordered by the Federal Communications Commission and upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court."

"The FCC and other federal agencies including the Justice Department have agreed that competition has lowered consumer prices and brought new and innovative equipment to the marketplace," he said. "We now have the chance to make this the law of the land."

Recently Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin (D-Calif.), chairman of the House communications subcommittee, introduced a proposed new Communications Act to replace the 1934 law which many in Washington believe has been made obsolete by technology and changing consumer needs.

The 1934 act helped establish a large regulatory machine in telecommunications, something the new bill would reverse. Rep. Louis Frey (R-Fla.), the subcommittee's ranking minority member, cosponsored the bill.

Choma said this state's congressional delegation should help insure that the new Communications Act, as it moves through Congress, provides the necessary safeguards for Bell's small competitors in the telephone equipment industry.

He said one of the major forces threatening competition in the field today was the Bell practice, which has been identified by the FCC and other regulatory bodies, of siphoning off some profits from home and small business subscribers to finance predatory pricing against small competitors.

"The current Justice Department antitrust suit against the Bell System includes predatory pricing as one of the major charges," Choma said. "Rather than wait perhaps a decade for the courts to settle this issue, our association believes Congress now should make it a clear violation of the law."

The Michigan association and its national body, the North American Telephone Association, together with allies among consumer groups and legislators, have fought a decade-long battle to insure that competition is made a part of the U.S. communications law.

Skate-A-Thon to aid muscular dystrophy

A Jerry Lewis Skate-A-Thon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association is set for Saturday, Aug. 5 at Skateland West in Westland. The skating event will begin at 11 a.m. and continue marathon-style until 11 p.m.

All proceeds from the Skate-A-Thon will be donated to the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, and the public is welcome to participate by registering to skate or by contributing to MDA at the rink. Susan Cahill, the skating rink manager, said that she's "delighted to be a part of Jerry's fight against muscular dystrophy. It's truly a worthwhile cause."

All across the country, rink operators who are among the 1,500 members of the Roller Skating Rink Operators Association (RSROA), are sponsoring Skate-A-Thons in cooperation with MDA.

"Skate-A-Thons offer people who care the chance to use their healthy bodies to help those hundreds of thousands who suffer from dreadful muscle-wasting diseases," said Cahill. "We in RSROA are very proud that we've played a part in raising several million dollars for

RESOLUTION 78-352
WHEREAS: Act No. 198 of the Public Acts of 1974 is designed to provide a stimulus in the form of significant tax incentives to industry to renovate and/or expand aging plants and to build new plants in Michigan; and
WHEREAS: Under the provisions of the Act, a local governmental unit in which the total property tax levy is at least thirty (30) mills may establish property tax incentives to attract new plants in the area; and
WHEREAS: Said Act provides that a firm may apply for and be issued an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate which entitles the facility to exemption from ad valorem real and personal property taxes for a period of twelve (12) years. In lieu of the property tax, the firm will pay a specific tax known as the Industrial Facility Tax. The Industrial Facility Tax for a new plant in an industrial development district is determined by the ad valorem property tax levied by the municipality instead, however of using the total mills levied, only half the millage rate is applied; and
WHEREAS: Said Act provides that seventy-five (75 percent) percent of the owners of property be affected by any proposed industrial development district may apply to the local governmental unit for the establishment of an industrial development district; and
WHEREAS: Foster Machinery Sales Company, did on April 11, 1978 submit a request to the City of Romulus to establish an industrial development district, its description as follows:

and,
WHEREAS: The Foster Machinery Sales Company represents more than seventy-five (75 percent) percent of the property owners to be included in the aforementioned district as required by the provisions of Public Act 198; and
WHEREAS: Public Act 198 requires that a public hearing be held to hear any objections to and all reasons for the establishment of such an industrial development district when a request is received by the local municipality for the establishment of such a district; and
WHEREAS: City Council of the City of Romulus is cognizant of the critical employment situation existing within its corporate limits compounded by an equally critical employment situation in the State and indeed the country; and
WHEREAS: The establishment of the requested industrial development district would go far to encourage the Foster Machinery Sales Company to continue with additional projects on this site resulting in additional jobs for the citizens of the City of Romulus, as well as, a substantial increase to the City's tax base.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: That the City Council of the City of Romulus hold a Public Hearing on August 1, 1978, at 7:30 p.m. in the Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objections to the establishment of the requested industrial development district and to take testimony from any and all parties having reason to support the establishment of the requested industrial development district.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That copies of this resolution be forwarded to all property owners within the proposed boundaries of said industrial development district, to all units of government currently levying ad valorem tax on property included in the proposed industrial development district, and that a copy of this resolution together with a notice of public hearing be published at least once in the official newspaper of the City of Romulus not less than five (5) days proceeding the hearing.

Group stimulates local development

Bingamen named to county EDC

Gary Lee Bingamen of United Home Life Insurance Co. and Morgan-Lentine Investment Co. of Romulus has been appointed to a five-year term on Wayne County's Economic Development Corporation's 11-member board of Directors.

The appointment was announced by Board of Commissioners Chairman Jarret Simmons prior to the panel's first meeting July 18.

The Economic Development Corporation (EDC), authorized by the Board of Commissioners in March, is an independent (non-government), non-profit organization designed to stimulate local industrial and commercial development. Under state law it is empowered to sell revenue bonds to help finance industrial and commercial growth. It also is eligible for federal grants.

"It is an important new tool for helping local communities with programs and projects for development of jobs, business growth and overall economic improvement," explained Mrs. Simmons. "We consider this one of the chief means for competing with neighboring states in the battle to attract new business."

Commissioner Edgar L. Harris, who proposed the EDC a year ago and has since guided it successfully through committee deliberations, said that the corporation will serve "all the 43 cities and townships in the county that want to maintain existing business and bring in new business."

"We realize the potential for economic development that exists in Wayne County, and we are anxious to seek out all diversified phases of industry to provide a good basis for still further growth," he added.

On the Board of Commissioners, Harris represents District 26 which encompasses Flat Rock, Rockwood, Romulus, part of Taylor and Huron Township.

The corporation board represents a cross-section of business, commercial, industrial and community interests, and more than three can be county employees. When the EDC board considers a particular project, it is required to add two temporary members who reside in the locality proposed.

CITY OF ROMULUS
NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Romulus will hold a Public Hearing on August 9, 1978, at 7:00 p.m. in the Romulus City Council Chambers, 11111 Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan, to take testimony from any and all parties having objection to and/or having reason to support the issuance of an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate as outlined in the following resolution.

THIS IS AN OPEN MEETING
RESOLUTION 78-371

WHEREAS: The City of Romulus, by Resolution 78-370, established an Industrial Development District, wherein the Federal-Mogul Corporation, is in the process of making certain improvements; and

WHEREAS: Federal-Mogul Corporation, has filed an Application requesting approval of an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate, within the Industrial Development District, described in the attached legal description (See application submitted) pursuant to Public Act 198, Michigan Acts of 1974, as amended; and

WHEREAS: Section 5(2) of Public Act 198, Michigan Acts of 1974, as amended, requires the City Council of the City of Romulus provide a notice and hearing for the City Assessor of the City of Romulus and all taxing units that levy ad valorem property taxes upon property;

WHEREAS: It has been determined that the County of Wayne, the Romulus School District, the Wayne County Intermediate School District and the Wayne County Community College are the affected taxing units assessing ad valorem taxes upon the property in questions, as well as, the City of Romulus.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED: By the City Council of the City of Romulus that the City Clerk shall, pursuant to Section 5(2) of Public Act 198 of Michigan Acts of 1974, as amended, notify the Assessor of the City of Romulus and the taxing units' legislative bodies that a hearing will be held before the City Council of the City of Romulus on the 9th day of August, 1978 at 7:00 p.m. in the Council Chambers of the City of Romulus, Michigan, upon an application by the Federal-Mogul Corporation, for approval of an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate, within the Industrial Development District, described in the attached legal description (See application submitted), which is made a part of this Resolution by reference.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED: That the City Clerk shall send a notice to the following taxing unit's Legislative Body by certified mail, Return Receipt Requested:

1) Dave Krause, City of Romulus, Assessor
2) Wayne County Board of Commissioners
3) Wayne County Community College
4) Wayne County Intermediate School District
5) Romulus Board of Education

Said notice shall also advise taxing unit that an application has been filed by Federal-Mogul Corporation. A copy of the notice and a request for their appearance shall be sent to the applicant, Federal-Mogul Corporation.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of a Resolution adopted by the Romulus City Council at their Regular Meeting held July 25, 1978.

County heads back tax cuts when needed

Calling for a "rollback of property taxes," if they reach "confiscatory levels," and property taxes which accurately reflect what it costs to provide essential local governmental services, more than 4,000 county officials have approved a resolution on tax reform and responsible government.

The resolution was adopted during the National Association of Counties (NACo) 1978 annual conference, held in mid-July and where Proposition 13 was one of the dominant issues.

The tax reform resolution calls on federal, state and local officials to renew their efforts to eliminate waste, reduce bureaucracy and cut red tape in government. It also calls on county officials to support the President and Congress in their efforts to balance the federal budget at the earliest possible date and to "assume our share of that responsibility."

The resolution recognizes that property tax levels are often intolerable and that the property tax itself has been asked to carry far too many governmental burdens. The resolution points out that too often the "overload" of the property tax is not the result of votes by local elected officials, but rather the mandates of federal and state governments.

Reciting to the resolution, NACo's 1977-78 President William O. Beach of Montgomery County, Tenn., said he believes counties are willing to take "their fair share of cuts" when it comes to national tax reform as long as efforts to reduce government spending occur at all levels of government - federal, state and local.

said at one of the NACo's sessions that he didn't believe that the American people wanted "meat axe" cuts in vital, basic services.

"I don't think that the American people want us to make wholesale cuts that would further reduce the quality of life for many people who are poor, disabled, elderly or disadvantaged," he said, adding that Proposition 13 type initiatives will be encouraged by indications from the federal Congressional Budget Office that California's proposition will reduce inflation slightly and by the fact that state governments now have "an aggregate surplus of more than $18 billion."

He said the obvious answer is to strike a happy medium.

"We must in some way strike a compromise between the needs of efficient government and the demands of the people for services at minimal cost."

Sandra Smoley, one of the few California county officials able to attend the conference, talked about the immediate situation in her state.

The Sacramento County supervisor said: "We will use $4 billion of our state surplus in order to try to maintain California's 8,000 special districts, school districts, counties and cities at a budgetary level that will approximately 90 percent of what otherwise was expected in 1978-79."

"Our problems, however, are just beginning, because a year from now we expect to have only $3 billion the state surplus available for local government. Schools alone expect to need an additional $800 million just to maintain their budget and salaries at the level projected for 1978-79."

At the conference county officials were also told that they may not like the changes Congress is proposing to make in Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) programs, but that these changes may be necessary to keep such programs alive.

At a panel session on CETA re-enactment, congressional staff members pointed out that CETA programs have come under public fire recently. Susan Grayson, majority staff director of the House subcommittee on employment opportunities, said one of the major criticisms of CETA was "a widespread feeling that much of the money is being used for jobs that would have otherwise been funded through local resources."

Whether justified or not, such criticisms - plus the "Proposition 13 fever" - have put Congress in a mood to design a "lean, tight and streamlined CETA re-enactment bill to serve people who are the hardest to employ," Grayson said.

The proposed CETA legislation would significantly tighten eligibility standards, put a more restrictive ceiling on salaries for public service jobs, and specify what kinds of jobs can be created.

Many county officials believe these changes would make CETA too rigid and destroy the flexibility of local governments to design employment programs to meet the particular needs of their communities. However, Grayson warned that attempts to amend the legislation may jeopardize changes for passage of a re-enactment bill this summer.

Grocery code is defended for safety of consumer

AB9FGD7.

What you have just read is not a typesetting error. Indeed, the foregoing series of letters and numbers carries with it a wealth of information, according to Charles J. Carey, president of the National Food Processors Association.

"The next time you go grocery shopping," Carey suggests, "pick up a can or a jar of food and examine the code on the end. It will typically be in six figures, though it might be in as many as 10. Of course, each packer has his own different code."

Carey explains that in the hypothetical code above, the first letter "A" might signify the plant at which the product was packed. "B" indicates what the product is, "9", "F" and "G" the year, month and day in which the product was processed and "7" the line of production on which it moved.

"In other words," he says, "AB9FGD7 might mean that here is a can of green beans which was packed in Plant Four of the Philadelphia Canning Co. in Philadelphia, Pa., on Dec. 31, 1977, between 8 a.m. and noon. That's a lot of information in very little space."

According to Carey, all foods packed in cans and jars are coded in this fashion in order to insure that consumers are protected in the unlikely event that these products are contaminated or defective.

"This little code is one of the best friends the consumer has," Carey says. "The NFPA has always strongly recommended that all of its members code their products and has supported this position with the government. The Food and Drug Administration's processing regulation for low acid canned foods requires a code on all containers."

"Container coding is an invaluable service to the consumer," Carey says. "There is no way you could include all that information otherwise; there really isn't enough room to spell it out on a label. And it would be of no interest to the average consumer anyway. If any defect should be discovered after the processing has been completed, the product can be identified and pulled out of the warehouse. It can even be traced in the marketplace."

Recently, the New York State Consumer Protection Board asked the Food and Drug Administration to require that canned foods show the "pack date" — the day, month and year when products are processed.

According to Carey, such information would be of limited value to the consumer because the time of durability or "shelf life" differs from product to product.

"We shouldn't confuse the consumer with meaningless information," he says. "The majority of consumers are already overburdened by the plethora of information now appearing on food labels. They don't need to be further inundated with information that they simply cannot put to use."

On the other hand, food processors are beginning to put "best if used by" dates on their products.

Carey says recent studies indicate that it is technically feasible for food canners to determine typical shelf lives for their products and to label them with a recommendation of when the product would be used.

"It is infinitely more sensible to tell the consumer when to use a product than to provide a pack date which would, in fact, tell the consumer nothing about the product's useful life. Information is worthless unless it can be understood and applied," he says.

The National Food Processors Association (formerly the National Canners Association) represents more than 500 companies that pack about 90 percent of the canned fruits, vegetables, meats, fish and specialty products produced in this country, as well as a substantial volume of other processed foods.

Kensington cruise set for Aug. 11

A "Nature Cruise" aboard the Island Queen excursion boat will be conducted at Kensington Metropark near Milford on Friday, Aug. 11 at 10 a.m.

Naturalist Dave Molanen will be on board to discuss the human and natural history of the area. Waterlife, such as Canada geese, gulls and herons are often seen from the boat. Participants should bring cameras and binoculars. Meet at the Boat Rental.

There is a $1 charge per person for this 1-hour cruise. Vehicle entry permits are required (Annual: regular - $5, senior citizen - $1 or daily - $1).

Advance registration is required. For information-registration contact the Nature Center at Kensington Metropark - Phone 695-1500.

Plymouth Festival Sept. 10

Chicken is king on Sunday, Sept. 10, during the Plymouth Fall Festival, and Plymouth's Rotarians know how to serve it royally.

Chicken barbecue chairman, Dr. Joe Smulsky, says his fellow Rotarians will serve about 16,000 of the complete chicken dinners this year.

The bill of fare includes chicken, corn on the cob, potato chips, a roll and butter, milk (white or chocolate) and coffee. Tickets are $3.25, as rising costs have forced an increase in price by 25 cents. Serving time will be noon to 6 p.m. at Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth.

Pick-up service is at a new location this year, S.W. Ann Arbor Road and Sheldon by Michigan National Bank.

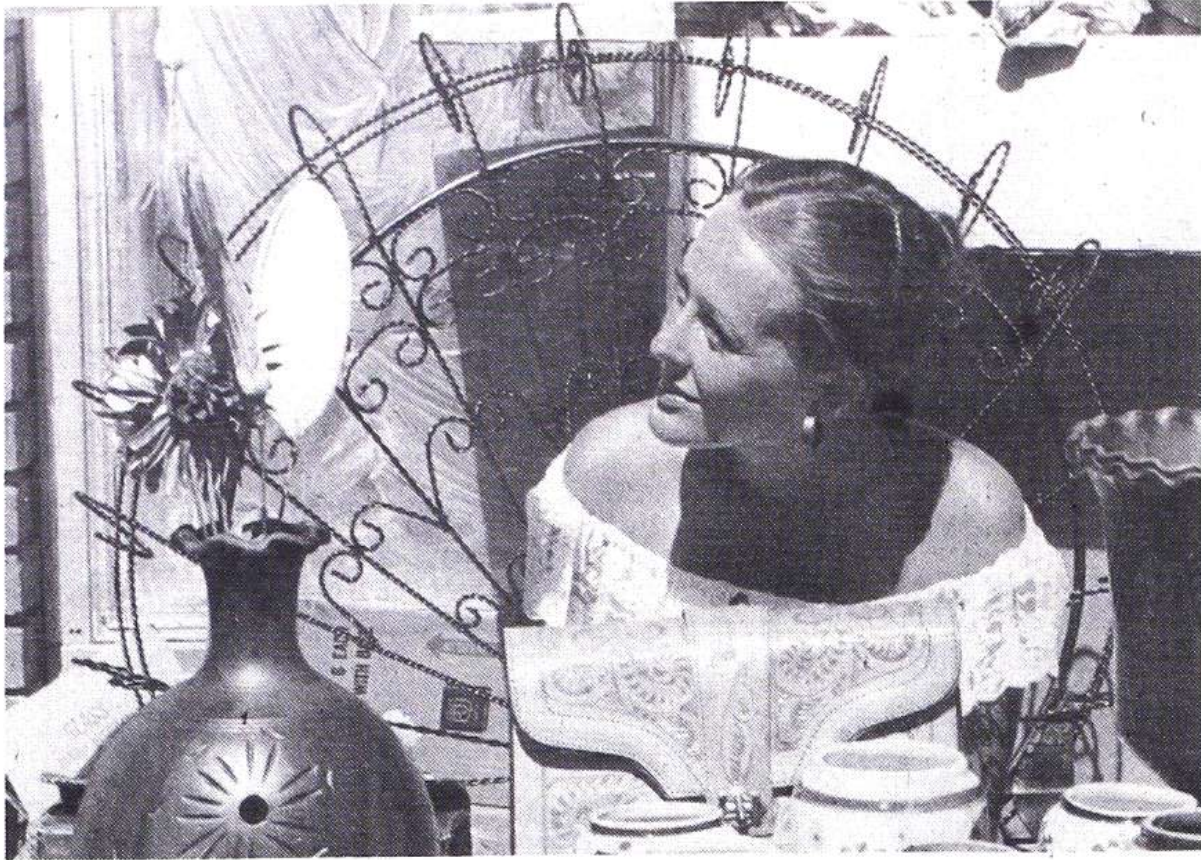

Offered this year in addition to the dinner will be soft drinks, ice cream and pies baked by the Rotary Anns.

Barbecuing all those chickens will require five tons of charcoal, according to purchasing chairman, Mike Corp. He has also ordered 90 cases of coke and sprite, 9,000 pints of milk, 1,400 dozen dinner rolls, 18,000 napkins, 16,000 bags of potato chips, 75 pounds of salt and nine pounds of pepper.

If all goes as planned, the Rotarians will once again serve up one of America's great mass meals with inspired precision. They've been doing it for 21 years now. Fall Festival itself evolved from a Rotary Picnic in 1956.

Assisting Smulsky in planning the massive dinner are last years chairman, Jim Carney; Mike Corp, purchasing; Glen Meadows, food preparation; and ticket sales, Bill Morrison.

Proceeds from the Rotary Barbecue and other service club dinners benefit the charities those groups serve throughout the year.

WHAT IS AN EPITAPH?
HAROLD REDISKE JR.
Generally, an epitaph is a phrase or verse inscribed upon a tombstone or marker. It frequently is indicative of the deceased's wit, character, philosophy, occupation or personality.
Fifty famous literary and theatrical persons of the day were asked to write their own epitaphs by a popular magazine in the mid-twenties, "Vanity Fair." Among the responses were these examples of epitaphs with a humorous twist:
Here lies
W. C. FIELDS
"I would rather be living in Philadelphia"
JASCHA HEIFETZ
"Killed in action by a flying staccato"
Age, 23 years, 7 months, 30 days.
So, here are lying his remains;
No more concerts, no more trains."
Epitaphs can be serious, sad or perfectly factual, by giving dates and family relations, such as this example:
"GEORGE STONE
1910 - 1977
Loving father, devoted grandfather, loved by all who knew him."

Stuff a tortilla for 'something different'

Adventurous chefs who like to try different cooking styles, aren't surprised to find that wheat germ fits into many cuisines. Its subtle nutlike taste harmonizes with all kinds of spices and seasonings. The crunchy texture makes combinations more interesting, and its nutrient content makes meatless dishes heartier. In fact, wheat germ is an effortless way to boost the nutritional value and interest level of all your meals.

Mexican food fans know there's more than one way to stuff a tortilla. Take wheat germ filled flautas for instance. They're one of the most appealing variations of all. The word "flauta" or flute describes the tubular shape made by rolling fried flour tortillas around a rolling pin. They are handsome, easy to fill cases for stuffing and baking. In this recipe, the Kretschmer Kitchen home economists filled them with a combination of ready to use ingredients that require no precooking.

Regular wheat germ, straight from the vacuum packed jar, grated jack cheese, sour cream, ripe olives, chiles and seasonings are simply stirred together for the filling. What could be easier? And with plenty of protein from the wheat germ and dairy foods, this easy stuffing offers top nutritional value and good appetite satisfaction, too.

Topped with tomato sauce, the flautas need about 20 minutes in a moderate oven to heat through. To serve Sonora style, garnish with sour cream and accompany the flautas with rice, fresh avocado wedges and green "ensalada." Allow one or two flautas depending on appetites. This makes a festive yet economical menu for family and company meals.

Wheat Germ Flautas

Cooking oil
4 flour tortillas
¾ cup vacuum packed wheat germ, regular
1 cup grated monterey jack cheese
½ cup dairy sour cream
½ cup chopped green onion
½ cup pitted ripe olives, cut into wedges
1 medium clove garlic, minced
¼ cup chopped green chiles
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon oregano leaves, crushed
¼ teaspoon ground cumin
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce

Dairy sour cream, ripe olives, chopped green onion for garnish

Heat oil ¼-inch deep in large skillet. Fry tortillas, one at a time, about 15 seconds on each side until they begin to crisp. Roll into 1¾-inch wide tubes. Wrap around rolling pin to shape if desired. Place seam side down on paper towel to cool. Combine wheat germ, cheese, ½ cup sour cream, green onion, ripe olives, garlic, chiles, salt, oregano and cumin. Spoon into tortilla tubes. Place seam side down in single layer in baking dish. Spoon tomato sauce in wide strip on top of tortillas. Bake in 350 degree oven 20 minutes until thoroughly heated. Spoon sour cream in narrow strip over tomato sauce. Garnish with ripe olives and green onion. Makes 4 flautas.

Around town

Travels include the West, South for Romulusites

Combining a family reunion with business and pleasure, the Clark family of Romulus — Kenn, Edie, Marsha, Jon and Connie — left for Dalton, Ga. on July 1 and headed for the home of Edie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rowley Rutherford, for the first half of their 2-weeks vacation.

On the Fourth of July the Clarks were among the 128 members of the Rowley clan who gathered at the Rutherford farm for their 38th annual get-together. A cooperative dinner, games, picture taking and reminiscing were all part of the day-long fun which culminated in a group sing led by Mrs. Clark's great-uncle, Kermit Rutherford of Atlanta, Ga. Others at the gathering traveled from Oak Park and Garden City, Mich.; Brownsville, Texas; Summerville and Charlotte, S.C.; and all parts of Georgia.

When the Clark quintet departed from Dalton they headed for Florida for a 2-day stay at Walt Disney World's Polynesian Village; visited friends, the Lester Lees in Orlando; then headed homeward with their last stop in Findley, Ohio for lunch with the Clyde Carter family.

Quotes worth quoting...

"Since most domestic quarrels are said to revolve around the subjects of money, children and in-laws, the perfect marriage should be one between two rich and sterile orphans."

Sidney J. Harris said it.

Workshops to aid women entering new job market

Help for women contemplating entering the job market will be offered by Washtenaw Community College in three special workshops this summer.

Taught at the Ypsilanti Center at 411 Florence Street, the Job Skills Workshops will concern three specific problem areas: turning homemaking skills into employable assets; interviewing employers and writing "creative" resumes.

Barb Bargo, career consultant, will teach the classes to be offered on three consecutive Thursday evenings—Aug. 3, 10 and 17 from 7 to 9 p.m. The fee is $3 except for indigent senior citizens who may enroll at no charge. The public is welcome. Advanced registrations are requested.

The first session will help participants analyze their homemaking skills, develop a skills profile and show how to "recycle" these skills as employable assets.

The second session will provide techniques for successful interviewing, showing not only how to approach the situation but also discussing which questions should be asked and what answers are important.

Session three will demonstrate how in resume writing one should replace a "work history" format with a "skills" pattern to make the resume work for a prospective employee, not against.

For registration and other information please call 482-2230.

In Romulus

Mahalak is guest speaker at Senior Citizens Club

Michigan State Rep. Edward Mahalak, D-38, was guest speaker July 18 at the meeting of Romulus Senior Citizens Club No. 1. His talk revolved around the four property tax proposals which would be on the ballot this fall.

July 25 for the club turned out to be letter perfect since that was the date scheduled for the annual potluck picnic at Lower Huron Metro Park. Although the sun was bright and hot and the temperatures in the high 80's, David Ries tells us, it was cool and comfortable in the shade of the trees. The food was excellent, he added, with enough left over to feed the "proverbial army." Taking a taste of each dish on the table could cause a person to gain weight. But, he said, it's interesting to try food prepared a little differently from what you're used to eating.

The club wishes to thank Helen Perecki and Grace and Jo Jo Nehra for the hams they donated for the dinner. Card games, horseshoes and music rounded out the afternoon for the group.

Coming up on the calendar are the club's anniversary dinner Aug. 22 at the VFW Hall, a catered affair, and a 1-day mystery trip on Aug. 18. Those taking part are to leave at 8 a.m. and have breakfast enroute during the 153 mile trip and tour of a manufacturing plant. Those are the only clues available. Each member is to pay for his own, dinner that evening.

Introduction to computers is new class at Washtenaw

A new course, Introduction to Computers, will be offered this fall as part of the general business curriculum at Washtenaw Community College. Enrollment in the class is open to the public.

The course will provide study of information about modern digital computers with the goal of educating class participants about the impact these devices have upon their lives and providing knowledge of the use of computers in the working world.

Norman Lederer, dean of occupational and general education at WCC, notes that as specific objectives of the course students will be able to operate a computer terminal to a remote computer; describe computer languages; write a simple program in BASIC; describe uses of computers and specialized terminals in education, business, government, law enforcement and medicine; describe the history of computer development and understand some possible future uses of computers.

Strong emphasis will be placed on learning to use terminals to solve application problems, observing computers at work and examining the good and bad aspects of computer use.

Questions regarding the class and registration at Washtenaw Community College can be directed to the school registrar at 973-3548.

New heir is titled Ryan David

There'll be birthday parties from now on whenever July 19 rolls around at the home of David and Patricia Schmoekel of 17470 Martinsville Rd., Belleville.

The honoree will be their first born child, Ryan David, who arrived at 4:51 a.m. at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. The new heir weighed in at 8 lbs. - 7 ozs. and measured 20 1/2 inches.

The new mother is the former Pat Popich, the daughter of Mrs. Christine Popich of Romulus. The maternal grandparents, who reside in Taylor, are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmoekel and the proud great-grandfather is William Schmoekel, also of Taylor.

Hardens have a daughter, Kelley Lynn

Warren Michael Harden, who's 4-years-old and lives in Jacksonville, Fla., wants people in this area to know he has a new baby sister, Kelley Lynn, who was born May 23.

The 7 lb. - 12 oz. infant, who measured 21 inches, is the daughter of former Bellevillites, Carl and Marsha Harden. He currently is serving with the U.S. Navy at Jacksonville.

Grandparents of the newcomer are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blanck of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Harden Jr. of Romulus. Claiming great-grandparent titles are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lentz of Medina, Ohio and Douglas Harden Sr. of Romulus.

BY LEE SMITH

As I look back on days gone by, I seem to recall cute little orange-colored tractors with long blades attached slowly winding their way along the highways and byways each summer. Part of the Wayne County Road Commission's fleet of vehicles, they faithfully clipped the shoulders of unsightly weeds and tall grass and helped give the state slogan, "If you seek a beautiful peninsula, look around you" some credence.

We're already into August and I've yet to spot one of the mowers ANYwhere in the area.

For starters, you fellas who are supposed to see to such things try (I dare you) to see if there's a west-bound train approaching on Haggerty Road, just north of Huron River Drive. That is, without getting out of your car and walking to the middle of the Norfolk & Western trail for a look-see.

Or take a stab at making a left turn off Savage onto Haggerty without taking your life in your hands. The same holds true for exiting Haggerty and edging out foot-by-foot to see if it's safe to turn right onto Huron River.

These are but THREE cases of potential danger caused by weeds grown too tall to see over or around.

Come on, WCRRC, let's get those tractors out of storage!

CHEERS - to the Belleville Presbyterian Church and its part in saving a bit of Americana which will serve as a beautiful "welcome" to those entering the city via Belleville Road. The church's planning committee recently completed negotiations for moving the 39-year-old replica of the famed Martha Mary Chapel from Dearborn Heights to the new site just south of I-94.

JEERS - to that segment of our society which equates "progress" with the wrecking ball. That was the fate of the quaint, white, slender-spired building had the advocates of "moving forward" had their way.

And, speaking of white, steepled churches - did you know that St. Anthony's was of that very nature when it stood at the corner of Main and First some 24 years ago? The tiny mission, which later became a parish of its own, was of the old (and charming) school of architecture - its spire shooting skyward over the entry doors which were off-side rather than centered as are so many New England edifices.

The home-grown tomatoes are in, gals, and here's a little side dish I put together last week (to go with that Zucchini with Bacon casserole you'll find elsewhere in the Suburban Living section.)

This is one of those basic recipes which can be added-to or doctored-up to meet the taste preferences of each family.

Peel and slice several well-ripened tomatoes into a bowl and sprinkle with either sugar or artificial sweetener (to cut the acidity); add some snipped fresh parsley, some dil weed and ground black pepper and pour Kraft local Catalina dressing lightly over the mixture. Blend gently (with a rubber spatula) and chill well before serving. The family voted it "pretty darn good."

If we weren't having the zucchini casserole, I'd have added some thin slices to the tomato mixture. Onion lovers might like to toss in rings of sweet Bermuda or slices of scallions (greens 'n all). This would also be good with sliced cucumbers.

Why do the big-time ad agencies feel they have to use so many foreign accents to sell American products to Americans?

For easy mirror wipe-ups in bathrooms, keep a roll of paper towels in the vanity or closet. One sheet will do the job and paper is one of the best shining materials for mirrors or windows. This eliminates the need for a damp cloth AND a dry cloth. And if you've more than one bathroom, tuck paper towels and your favorite cleaning fluid in each.

Here's that bar cookie recipe I promised to share with you if Rhoda Chapo read my brazen "hint" in a previous issue. She called last Thursday and was delighted to have this opportunity. An avid recipe collector, she found this Lemon Chooz goodie in the 1965 Pillsbury Bake-Off Cookbook. It makes at least 36 delicious, moist bars.

LEMON CHOOZ

- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups flour, sifted
- 1/2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1 15-oz. can sweetened condensed milk
- 1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 1/2 cup flaked coconut
- 1/2 cup chop'd. walnuts.

Cream butter, add sugar and flour and mix until crumbly. Press into a greased 10x15" pan and bake for 5 minutes at 350 degrees. Cool. Combine remaining ingredients and mix until well blended. Spoon over baked crust, spread with a buttered spatula. Bake 12 to 15 minutes at 350 until golden. Frost with lemon icing.

LEMON ICING

- 1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
 - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon melted butter.
- Blend and spread over warm Lemon Chooz.

On viewing the July 20 TV special, "I Want It All Now", I couldn't help but wonder if that's where the USSR came up with their favorite descriptive quip, "decadent American society."

The unusual and curious values of the people who live the "good life" in Marin County - the wealthiest in California - and how their morals and manners are influencing the American way of life, was examined and set before us by host Edwin Newman.

If you didn't catch it that night, perhaps it will be re-run sometime in the future. A most interesting, most repulsive peek at how some Americans deem it necessary to exist. One certainly could equate it all with the fall of the Roman Empire.

We're also blessed with a lot of cabbage at the moment and here's an easy-to-do dish which my Aunt Helen told me about. It's good!

This is simply called "Cabbage with Noodles" and it's not hard to make way too much so be careful with the amounts. I warn you because you'll end up "licking the platter clean" if there's any left. I used a quarter of a large head of cabbage for four of us and about a cup of noodles.

Cut up cabbage and cook in small amount of water until almost tender. Don't let it get mushy. Drain well and add salt and pepper to taste, some butter, the cooked drained noodles and (just before serving) a dollop or two of sour cream and you've a two-in-one dish. This is a goodie to serve with pork - chops, roast, ham, sausage.

Celebrities with unpleasant and/or irritating speaking voices: top honors (a tie) to Howard Cossell and Dick Vitale. Then there's Julia Child, Jo-Jo Shetty, Truman Capote and Henry Kissinger (his would have to go into the "monotonous" category.)

THE BOTTOM LINE: Suggestion for chronic speeders: each time you get behind the wheel, imagine you are on your way to keep a dental appointment.

Birthday treat: Cake and ice cream in one bite

Lucky is the child with a summer birthday. He can have ice cream and cake, all in one, for the celebration. The "cake" in this instance can be a layer of brownie mix baked in an 8-inch round cake pan. To make for easy fitting, ice cream also can be molded in a cake pan of the same size, lined with foil for easy removal. After packing in the pan, it's frozen, then unmolded right on top of the brownie layer. Decorating is simple. Tinted whipped cream writes the all-important message atop the ice cream. A scoop of strawberry ice cream makes a nicely rounded face for the clown while a sugar cone supplies his hat. Cake decorating confetti forms his features, the rim around his hat as well as trimming for the sides of the ice cream layer. It's certain to delight the young set. For mothers serving younger children, surprise puddings can be just as interesting. Made with milk, yogurt and instant pudding mix, these are decorated with a tic-tac-toe topping of whipped cream, tubed to make the boxes, strawberries and banana slices for "markers."

Yield: 8-inch cake
1 package (15.5 oz.) brownie mix

3 pints vanilla ice cream, softened
1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped
Red food color
1 sugar cone
Strawberry ice cream
Cake decorating confetti

Prepare brownie mix according to package directions. Bake in 8-inch round layer cake pan. Cool in pan. Line 8-inch round layer cake pan with foil. Spread vanilla ice cream smoothly into pan. Freeze until firm. Turn out ice cream onto plate; pull off foil. Color whipping cream. Pipe "Happy Birthday" with whipped cream onto ice cream. Place generous scoop strawberry ice cream on ice cream layer; top scoop with cone for clown hat. Press confetti into sides of ice cream and make clown face. Return to freezer until ready to serve, at least one hour. To serve: Place brownie layer on serving plate. With spatula lift ice cream layer onto brownie.

BUTTERSCOTCH
SURPRISE PUDDING

Eight Servings
2 cups cold milk
2 cartons (8-oz. each) plain yogurt

2 packages (3 3/4-oz. each) butterscotch instant pudding and pie filling
Whipped cream, if desired
Banana slices, if desired
Strawberries, if desired

Combine milk and yogurt in a large mixing bowl. Stir in pudding mix, using a wire whisk. Mix until smooth. Pour into individual serving dishes. Refrigerate one to two hours. Garnish each serving with a tic-tac-toe design, using a pastry bag with tube and whipped cream. Use banana slices and strawberries as "markers."

180 boys and girls turn out for annual scout day camp

It may have been sponsored by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, Wayne-Association, but it attracted more than just girls.

In fact, 180 boys and girls turned out for the association's annual week-long day camp, held in the Lower Rouge Parkway on Venoy in Wayne. Of those registered 6 through 12 years for the camp, 50 were boys.

Under the theme of "Try New Things and Make New Friends", the young participants tried tie dying, candle making, sand craft, weaving and macrame. Sports activities included kickball, baseball and Frisbee games.

Among the special camp programs was Ethnic Day, where youngsters learned to dance the Conga, made a bracelet and necklace typical of the native Americans and enjoyed a display of fans from Japan.

The boys and girls also learned games from different parts of the world, taught by Teri Julien and Neva Avis.

Many adult Girl Scout volunteers also worked on this year's day camp, while Sue Nagy and her troop of Cadette Girl Scouts operated a tot lot for the children of the volunteers.

This year's camp was directed by Jeanne Berry and Chris Snowden. Irene Schoonover served as registrar.

Make it zucchini for dinner

How's your zucchini supply holding out? Are those gardening neighbors bombarding you with the stuff and causing you to see slender green squashes in your sleep?

Just in case you're on the look-out for a couple more ways to fix that prolific vegetable, here are two additions to tuck behind that file card that reads "vegetables."

The first is one I clipped out of some newspaper or magazine last year and finally got around to fixing for my family last week. When there's not a single lick left in the dish, you know you've hit on something good! We found it delicious.

Zucchini with Bacon

2 1/2 cups zucchini, sliced medium
1/2 cup sour cream
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon flour
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1 cup Cheddar cheese, grated
3 slices bacon
One-third cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Cook zucchini in small amount of boiling salted water about 5 minutes (no longer!) Mix together next 3 ingredients and fold in egg white. Fry bacon until crisp and drain on paper towels. Drain zucchini well, then layer in 1-quart casserole half the squash, egg mixture, cheese and bacon. Repeat. Top with bread crumbs that have been tossed with melted butter. Bake in preheated oven at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serves 2-3.

— From Lee Smith

When Rhoda Chapo called us with her bar cookie recipe (it's in "potpurri") she also had a couple good-sounding squash recipes to add to our collection. And don't they sound super?

Italian Squash with Cheese Dumplings

Saute half a small onion, chopped, in 2 tablespoons cooking oil. Cut up and add 4 or 5 fresh tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste and 2 basil leaves or about 1/2 teaspoon dry basil. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes. Wash 1 large or 2 small zucchini, cut in chunks and add to tomato mixture. Simmer for about 15 minutes.

CHEESE DUMPLINGS: Add 1 cup finely grated Parmesan cheese to 1 slightly beaten egg and black or white pepper to taste. Mix together and drop by tablespoonsful onto hot zucchini mixture; cover and simmer for 5 minutes.

— From Rhoda Chapo

Sesame Squash

2 1/2 lbs. washed zucchini
1 large clove garlic, minced
2 tablespoons sesame seed
salt and white pepper to taste
Two-thirds cup shredded sharp cheese

Thinly slice the zucchini and place with garlic in large skillet with small amount of water. Steam squash over low heat until just tender. Drain, mash thoroughly and set aside. Brown sesame seeds in a heavy iron skillet, stirring until they darken, remove from pan. Add seeds, cheese and salt and pepper to squash, place over low heat; cover until cheese melts. Serves 6 to 8 people.

— From Rhoda Chapo

Send us your bridal information

Want to share that "special day" with those who are unable to be present in person for your wedding ceremony? We'll write the details of your wedding in story form for you — and at no charge — if you'll simply follow a few guidelines. The Belleville Enterprise and The Romulus Roman offer bridal questionnaires for you to fill out as well as engagement forms for announcing the "start of it all." These forms include all the pertinent questions involved with your marriage or betrothal. Forms may be picked up at our office, 116 Fourth St., Belleville (we're in the old Township Hall, side entrance) anytime during the week between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. We will also mail forms if a telephone request is made. Call Lee Smith, Suburban Living Editor, at 697-9191.

YWCA sponsoring new 'support group'

A support Group for Divorced Women, sponsored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County, will begin meeting on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. The group is designed to help women who are separated, in the process of divorce, or who have been recently divorced, share feelings and meet specific needs that arise. The facilitators for the sessions will be Irene Lopez, Consultant to the Re-Entry for Education Program of the Women's Department, University of Michigan-Dearborn, and Mitzi Hoffman, Master's of Social Work, Program Director, YWCA. A "Divorce Overview" will be given by a lawyer obtained through the Women's Justice Center of Detroit during the Aug. 9 session at 7 p.m. The group will continue to meet twice a month, on the second and fourth Wednesday, at the YWCA, 26279 Michigan Ave., between Beech Daly and John Daly, in Inkster. A similar group is currently meeting in the Livonia area. The new "Support Group" is designed for women in the area with a $6 YWCA membership being the only fee.

Please include your number

PLEASE include a telephone number with any news item you send in or drop off at the office. Make sure it's a number where you can be reached during working hours (9 a.m. to 4 p.m.) It is important since quite often stories need to be verified or spellings on names have to be checked. REMEMBER... a phone number, please!

Belleville senior citizens enjoy trip to Isle Royal

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Belleville Senior Citizens who joined the Ypsilanti Group on a trip to Isle Royal were Esther Burlingame, Cora Bradshaw, Elizabeth Leschinsky, Gertrude Burkus, Ann Bondy and Russel Van Buhler. They returned home Sunday, July 23, and report a wonderful time.

Miss June Thiele from Tucson, Ariz., is spending a couple of weeks with her aunt, Mrs. R. G. Atyeo of Church Street, and other Michigan relatives.

Mrs. Ray Van Sickle and Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty Street returned home on Tuesday of last week after having spent a week with Mrs. Harold Klaiss at her cottage on Crystal Lake.

While there they attended a concert at Interlochen Music Camp given by the World Youth Symphony Orchestra conducted by George C. Wilson with Van Cliburn as guest pianist. It was also the 50th anniversary of the National Music Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Niemann and daughter, Nancy, from Cincinnati, Ohio have been guests of Mrs. Niemann's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ketchum of Harmony Lane, this past week.

Out-of-town guests who attended the lakeside wedding of Carrietta Post and Scott Preuninger were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knapp of Havre, Mont.; Mrs. Lewis Pierman, son John, and friend, Donna Kuhn, of Ottawa, Ohio; Mrs. J.B. Allen of Piqua, Ohio; Mrs. James Thomson Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. James Thomson Jr. of Rockford, Mich.; and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hedges of Leawood, Kans.

The couple was married on Saturday, July 22, by the Rev. Joy Arthur of the First United Methodist Church at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. Carey Pierman of East Huron River Drive.

Sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Robson Jr., Mike, David and Craig from Torrance, Calif., arrived last Thursday to spend some time with their paternal grandparents, the senior George Robsons of Tyler Road.

After spending the month of July with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street, Janet Tucholski left by plane last Wednesday for her home at Chandler, Ariz.

Mrs. Joe Parker of South Service Drive, and daughter, Mrs. Cheryl Sikes with David and Courtney of Willis Road, returned home July 22 after having spent a week at Hattiesburg and Biloxi, Miss., with the former's sisters and brothers, and her grandson, Joseph Parker. Enroute home they stopped in Memphis, Tenn., to visit a nephew, Don Brazile.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Orr of Flint were weekend guests of Larry's parents, the Lloyd Orrs of Crowley Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter James of Clay Road spent last weekend with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Christenson at Croton.

Mrs. Norman Miller Sr. of Second Street accompanied her son, Elmer and his wife of Garden City, to Hollywood, Md. where they spent a week with the latter's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Eichfeld and new son, Marshall Ray, born July 14, weight 7 lbs.-4 1/2 ozs. He is the second great-grandchild for the senior Mrs. Miller. They returned home on Sunday, July 23.

Major and Mrs. Sam Emerson, Sarah and Mathew, from Fort Lee, Geneva, Calif., have been visiting relatives and friends in the community this past week.

Mrs. Richard was Binder with sons, Eric and Robert, of Petersburg were guests last Thursday of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street.

Mrs. Joseph Allen of Piqua, Ohio has been a guest this past week of her sister, Mrs. S.C. Pierman of East Huron River Drive.

On Thursday evening, July 20, members of Myrtle Lodge No. 89, F. & A. M., along with members of Belleville Chapter No. 73, O.E.S., gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grover of Waltz Road for a cook-out and surprise picnic honoring Walter James of Clay Road, Worshipful Master of Myrtle Lodge. Besides the honored guest, his wife, Elizabeth, and members of his family were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fensch with daughters, Hayley and Janie, from Geneva, Calif., have been visiting relatives and friends in the community this past week.

The weekend of July 21 Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road attended the mid-summer Kaiser - Fraser Meet held at Ottawa, Ill., with head quarters at Ramada Inn. They were one of the many who drove their vehicles in the caravan to the huge K-F warehouse at Earlville where they were royally greeted and served a bountiful buffet meal under the tent.

Cars were judged there and they won first place for their Henry J. On Sunday they attended the banquet at the Inn where Blanche took part in the ladies impromptu hat trimming contest. She won first prize for her hat which her husband modelled.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welt and family of Willis Road returned home last Wednesday evening after having been guests for the past week of a relative, Mrs. Norman Schweitzer at Kingston, N.H.

The weekend of July 21, Mrs. Janet Helzerman of Martinsville Road was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Betty Keefer of Livonia. On Saturday the ladies attended the wedding of their cousin, Richard Schulte, at a Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

The previous week Mrs. Helzerman and granddaughter, Tracie, spent several days with another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frohlich, at Maceday Lake near Waterford. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Helzerman and sons of Haggerty Road joined them on Saturday and all returned home on Sunday afternoon.

Former Belleville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hedges of Leawood, Kans. were calling on friends in the city last week.

Good Seasons has new mix

Freshness is the key to great salads. Fresh greens, ripe tomatoes, crisp vegetables and a dressing that's really fresh. And now, for the first time, Fresh dressing lovers can have their dressing really fresh, too, because Good Seasons introduces a creamy French salad dressing in dry mix form.

The new product package includes instructions for preparing the dressing either in the familiar Good

Seasons cruet or in a tight-lidded pint-size jar, but however you mix it, you add your own fresh oil, vinegar and water so you always know that it's fresh when you make it and fresh when you serve it.

The new mix which makes a mildly tangy creamy French

Area students honored

Randall J. Krzesinski, the son of George and Genevieve Krzesinski of West Huron River Drive, Belleville, has received an $850 Campus Leader Award from Eastern Michigan University.

The scholarship recognizes leadership activities and is awarded to new freshmen, transfer students or continuing Eastern Michigan students. It is to be applied toward residence hall costs.

Krzesinski is a sophomore at EMU, majoring in public administration. He has served as an EMU students senator and chaired the Senate Rules Committee.

In other college news: Frank A. Mills of Second Street, Belleville, and Michael L. Bilbery of Merriman Road, Romulus were among students to receive degrees during commencement ceremonies July 28 at the General Motor's Institute.

Mills, who is sponsored by GMC Truck and Coach in Pontiac, received his bachelor of electrical engineering degree.

Bilbery, who is sponsored by GM's Hydra-Matic Division in Ypsilanti, received his bachelor of mechanical engineering degree.

Two Belleville residents recently attained a 4.0 grade point average during the spring term at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

The two collegians are Sharon Petrasky of Harmony Lane, a junior studying engineering sciences, and Linda Upto of Expressway, a senior studying human ecology.

Three Belleville residents of Belleville were recognized for their scholastic excellence during the spring quarter at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

Named to the term's Academic Honors List were Jon K. Batzer of Clarence, Anthony F. Ognjan of Village and Diane D. Soja of Haggerty Road.

Batzer also was named to the honors list for the winter quarter along with James E. Binkley of Wabash, Romulus.

Shakespeare to air on CH-56

Two of Shakespeare's greatest dramas transformed into movies and starring one of the premiere actors of all time, will be shown on upcoming Sunday nights at 10 on Channel 56.

On Aug. 6 at 10 p.m. Sir Laurence Olivier stars in his own brilliant production of Shakespeare's classic "Hamlet." This 1948 film won five Academy Awards including Best Production and Best Actor (Olivier).

"Hamlet," also starring Jean Simmons and Anthony Quayle, has been hailed as the definitive characterization of the melancholy Danish prince. The New York Times called the movie "creatively impressive," while the Saturday Rivier characterized it as "a masterpiece...a memorable motion picture."

The following Sunday, Aug. 13, at 10 p.m. another Olivier production and performance are featured in the 1955 movie "Richard III."

Critics again applauded Olivier's effort as they said he proved once and for all that great Shakespeare could be translated into towering cinematic art. Connoisseurs of Shakespeare and the dramatic art refer to this film as an example of "how it should be done."

Music Hall Operas to start eighth season

Michigan Opera Theatre will open its eighth season at the Music Hall Center with one of the most exotic offerings of the French repertoire, Bizet's "The Pearl Fishers", on Sept. 29.

Sensational soprano Leigh Munro will alternate the role of Leila, with Carmen Balthrop; Rico Serbo will alternate the role of Nadir with John Sandor, and Jake Gardner will portray Zurga.

Also highlighting the season will be Catherine Malfitano, performing her first Violetta in "La Traviata"; 14 performances of "Show Boat" and "I Pagliacci" in a double bill with the haunting American opera, "The Emperor Jones", based on the Eugene O'Neill play.

The Michigan Opera Theatre Orchestra will make its debut with Mark D. Flint, resident music director, conducting "The Pearl Fishers".

Leigh Munro, whose career started in musicals, proved an overnight sensation when she sang the role of Lina in Sarah Caldwell's production of Verdi's "Stiffelio". With only one day's notice, and no orchestra or stage rehearsal, Miss Munro took over for the ailing Anna Moffo. Facing an audience that expected Moffo not Munro was challenge enough, but by the end of her performance, she had won a standing ovation.

Alternating the role of Leila will be Carmen Balthrop, winner of national acclaim for her performance of the title role in Scott Joplin's "Treemonisha" in Houston, Kennedy Center and on Broadway. Miss Balthrop, who made her Metropolitan Opera debut as Pamina in "The Magic Flute", portrayed Micaela in MOT's "Carmen" last season.

The lush batik designs of artist Dennis Cigler will provide the inspiration for set and costume designs by Robert Joel Schwartz, who recently executed sets and costumes for MOT's production of "The Tender Land." Dominic Missimi, who directed last season's "Carmen" and Bernstein's "The Mass" for Music Hall, will direct.

With the Broadway premiere of "Show Boat", America saw the first of a new breed of musical. Not only did the story deal with the serious subjects, such as inter-racial marriage and marital desertion, but it also spanned a 50-year period. With its wealth of popular songs, including "Old Man River", "Make Believe", "Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man" and "Bill", "Show Boat" has delighted millions with scores of stage productions and several films.

In the 50th anniversary year of both America's greatest musical and the Music Hall Center (where it played in 1933), MOT presents the original "Show Boat" (music by Jerome Kern; book and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II, based on the novel "Show Boat" by Edna Ferber), opening Oct. 27.

The magnificent Catherine Malfitano, who recently starred in New York City Opera's "The St. of Bleeker Street", returns to MOT to sing her first Violetta in Verdi's "La Traviata", opening Jan. 12, 1979. Miss Malfitano's two previous appearances with MOT were in the title role of "Lucia Di Lammermoor" and as Catherine Sloper in the world premier of

"Washington Square".

Alternating in the role will be Pamela Myers who, following her MOT debut as Margeurite in "Faust", will appear in the world premiere of "The Duchess of Malfi" in Santa Fe this summer.

Also appearing, as Germont, will be Brent Ellis who portrayed Morris Townsend in MOT's "Washington Square" and most recently starred in the title role of "Don Giovanni" for the Glyndebourne Festival (England). Tenor Barry McCauley, currently with the San Francisco Opera, will make this MOT debut as Alfredo. The production will be directed by Christopher Alden.

The fourth offering of the season is the unusual combination of Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci" and Gruenberg's "The Emperor Jones", opening February 9, 1979. Soprano Marianna Christos returns to MOT in the role of Nedda. Since her debut as Mimi in La Boheme, Miss Christos has performed major roles with the Boston and San Francisco operas. John West, last season's Don Jose in "Carmen", returns to portray Canio and Charles Long, New York City Opera baritone, makes his MOT debut as Tonio.

The double bill closes with "The Emperor Jones", a rarely seen theatrical tour-de-force that premiered with the Metropolitan Opera in 1933. Donnie Ray Albert takes on the title role, sung by Lawrence Tibbett in the original Met production.

Season tickets are available by calling 963-3717, or writing Michigan Opera Theatre, 350 Madison Avenue, Detroit 48226. Student and group discounts are available.

Dealing with life

All women sometime in their life may be alone, and if they are widows or divorcees their financial picture may not be promising.

Families, headed by widows without a job show an average decrease in income of 44 percent. Only 14 percent of divorcees receive alimony and child support, said Marion Prince, Washtenaw County Extension home economist, and only half of the divorcees who get alimony and child support receive payments on a regular basis.

"At 50, if a woman's husband dies she may fall between the cracks of the system," Prince pointed out.

A 1970 congressional study showed that widows are left with small amounts of life insurance — usually not enough for a woman to live on for the rest of her life or support a family. A woman on her own faces one absolute imperative — coming to grips with the amount of money she has before she decides if outside employment is needed.

Decisions about spending the money you have will be reflections of your values based on the goals you set for yourself," Prince said.

"Professional help may be useful for those who have to make complex decisions such as selling a home, making money last to cover fixed expenses, and finding a job.

"Labor force participation rates of women have been climbing — a plus for women who have worked in the home and are scared of seeking work. You don't need to feel defensive about seeking work because you are not an oddity; you're average."

"Many women also feel defensive about job hunting because they don't think they have job skills," she added. "The organizing, decision making, and other skills gained in the home and perhaps is volunteer work fit requirements of many jobs. Maintaining a home and job may end up presenting difficulties, but if women lower their standards a little, the problems are not impossible to solve.

Offbeat Michigan

Deer, wolves, bobcats can be seen in state

(Note: "Animal Attractions" is the 10th in a series of 15 weekly articles on "Offbeat Michigan." These features are designed to encourage Michigan tourism and near-home travel.)

Barnyards featuring farm animals and deer that can be petted and fed, fierce timber wolves and bobcats that can be viewed up close and giant dinosaur reproductions are just part of the lure of Michigan's animal attractions.

The Dinosaur Gardens and Prehistoric Zoo near Alpena contains no living creatures. It is filled with life-size reproductions of prehistoric dinosaurs and birds which inhabited the earth during that period. There are more than two dozen huge, lifelike creatures displayed in a heavily forested tract.

The exhibits took 38 years to construct and assemble. The huge brontosaurus, 80 feet long and nearly as high, took 2½ years to complete. The gardens are open daily from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Detroit Zoological Park in Royal Oak is well-known for its bar-free atmosphere, and it features more than 500 species of mammals ranging from great apes to penguins. A new aviary, the size of a football field, features a free-flight area, with more than 100 species of birds.

The Detroit Zoo has the largest collection of polar bears in captivity and one of the largest and most attractive penguinariums anywhere.

Detroit's Children Zoo on Belle Isle draws thousands of youngsters

each summer to view, feed and pet a variety of small farm animals.

The Stage Coach Stop, a theme park on US-12 in the Irish Hills, includes a barnyard with horses, donkeys, goats and pigs. A train ride is available and regularly scheduled, old-time western shootouts are featured on Main Street.

The Kensington Children's Farm, adjacent to Kensington Metropark near Milford, covers 100 acres bordering the Huron River. The barnyard has live animals to pet and feed, plus pony rides and hayrides.

The Kalamazoo Nature Center, 70000 N. Westnedge Avenue, features a variety of farm animals and is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. There are nature trails, wooded areas and other wildlife.

The Kellogg Bird Sanctuary near Augusta has swans, ducks, geese, turkeys and peacocks that can be observed up close as they wander freely. Environmental displays may be seen at the multi-purpose reception center, where guided tours can be arranged.

Lansing's Potter Park Zoo, 1301 S. Pennsylvania Avenue, displays some 150 varieties of mammals and more than 200 bird species. The zoo has monkey and bird houses. It is open daily from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Mott Children's Farm, adjacent to Crossroads Village and the Huckleberry Railroad near Flint, has domestic animals in farmyard settings to watch and pet. Hours are 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Recycled aluminum to aid Dystrophy fight

Area recyclers will be joining the fight against Muscular Dystrophy when they sell their aluminum to Reynolds Aluminum during August.

Through Labor Day, Reynolds, in addition to paying the recycler the regular price of 17 cents a pound, will donate an extra penny for each pound to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Reynolds Aluminum pays 17 cents per pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items such as pie plates, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers.

Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters, storm door and window frames and lawn furniture tubing are also worth 17 cents a pound, if properly prepared. This aluminum must be free of all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding 3 feet and should not be mixed with cans.

The Reynolds Aluminum recycling unit will make its regular visits during August at Southland Center, 2300 Eureka Road, Taylor, every Saturday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. and at Westland Center, 35000 W. Warren, Westland, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon every Saturday.

For further information on the recycling program call toll free 1-800-243-6000.

includes 500 specimens of mammals, reptiles and birds, plus a large fresh-water aquarium. Adventure Land is a newly opened animal petting area. The zoo is open daily from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Deer Park Funland, US-31 at Russell Road north of Muskegon, combines animals to see and pet with amusement and train rides and a picnic area. Animals on display include monkeys, sheep, deer and more. Deer Acres, two miles south of Pinconning on M-13, features a wide variety of domestic and exotic animals displayed in storybook fashion. The entrance resembles a castle.

Saginaw Children's Zoo, part of the city's Rust Park complex, has more than 250 animals. In addition to farm animals, there are skunks, ferrets, raccoons and rabbits, plus an aquarium and reptile exhibit.

Hours are 12 noon to 6 p.m. weekdays, 12 noon to 7 p.m. Saturday, Sunday and all holidays. The zoo is located at Rust and Washington streets.

The Clinch Park Zoo at Traverse City features animals native to Michigan and includes a marina and bathing beach in its 10-acre location at the foot of the west arm of Grand Traverse Bay.

Visitors to the 50-acre Game Haven Wildlife Ranch near Wolverine can see the largest combined herd of buffalo and elk in the Midwest, plus 28 varieties of wildlife.

Marquette's Presque Isle Park Zoo is located along Lake Superior. It features a deer herd, timber wolf cubs, coyotes, bear cubs and a bobcat. There is a large picnic area and visitors can take a scenic drive along the lakeshore.

Feigner — softball king to play in Maybee

Eddie "The King" Feigner, softball's super showman and legendary pitcher, comes in to lead his Court-four-man team against full-sized Monroe Treadmill Sept. 23 at the Raisin Street Ballpark in Maybee, preceded by an All-Star Father-Son baseball game at 5 p.m.

A tremendous crowd is expected for the 6 p.m. game, sponsored by the Maybee Citizens Committee. Gates will open at 4 p.m. Admission prices will be $3 for adults, $2 for students 17 and under and children under 8 free.

Feigner is on the road for the 33rd successive year, still striking them out with 105-mph speeds, 30 different pitches and the savvy picked up in thousands of ball games.

He shows no signs of slipping. Indeed, he thinks he's better than ever, capable of fanning the side whenever he bears down.

"I might have lost a few inches off my fast ball, but I think the other pitches are better," he said.

From Beyer, with love

Todd Beyer, one of the finest tennis players the Great Lakes 8 Conference and Wayne have produced, riddled Detroit's Ricky Crowe in the finals to come away with his first United States Tennis Association-sanctioned tournament title by winning the 18-and-under Motor City Junior Open divisional championship. Todd turned back Crowe after posting four other victories in a pair of 7-5 sets.

The Sports Meridian

A very short vacation

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The news of my vacation was a bit premature. Unfortunately it's the next two weeks that I will be absent from my desk. Obviously, overanxious to get away, last week I reported that I would be on vacation. However, that wasn't so.

...

Had lunch with a couple of athletic directors one of whom reports "that if the money pinch continues in the schools, it will be difficult to carry out the mandate of the courts for equal sports for boys and girls in high schools and junior highs."

"We haven't purchased one single new item," the AD said, "and that's how bad the situation is. Without money we're going to have to forget about a lot of things we would like to see happen."

"I don't care what the courts say - when you don't have the money to carry out their edicts, there's nothing they or anyone can do."

Maybe the courts should also finance the schools instead of laying down the laws.

Meanwhile, Bill Hardy, the new head of athletics at Romulus High, has come up with a unique way of raising money for a project at the high school.

He wants everyone to purchase a brick.

That's right - purchase a brick.

Here let Hardy tell you:

"We want to build a storage facility adjacent to the football field," Hardy said, "so we've decided to sell bricks for $1 in order to raise the monies for the construction. We have some very talented people here at the high school and they're going to assist in making this project come true."

Hardy said that they are contemplating on building a concession stand, ticket booth and bathroom if they can raise enough money.

Members of the Romulus Varsity Club, along with the coaching staff at the high school, are selling the bricks at $1 per.

Hardy also wanted to remind athletes that Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug 8-9, are set aside for physical examinations for all boys and girls who wish to compete in athletics in the junior and senior highs. There is a $3 fee for the physicals which will be held in the gymnasium. It should be understood that no high school or junior high school athlete—boy or girl—is eligible to compete in athletics in the state without a physical.

On the same topic, Wayne Memorial and John Glenn are also scheduled for physicals.

Wayne will hold its physical for boys on Aug. 10 at 1 p.m. at the high school. All candidates for fall sports should report to the gym at 1 p.m. There is no charge. The girls' physicals are scheduled for 1 p.m., Aug. 24 in the gym and, again, only those who will be competing in the fall sports should report.

Jerry Szukaitis, the senior cross country coach in the area, is urging all boys and girls interested in running cross country at John Glenn to check in at 3 p.m., Monday, Aug. 14. He wants the runners to report to the area near the boys' and girls pool.

During the past six years John Glenn has been the Northwest Suburban Conference champ three times and co-champs twice and second once.

"We need to continue this pattern," says Coach Szukaitis.

And before we go on vacation, let's get this letter out of the way, first.

DEAR MR. MOORADIAN,

Four weeks have passed since the Wayne Jaycees Bicycle Rodeo has been held and nothing has been mentioned about the winners in the paper.

This is the second time our son has won a trophy in the city of Wayne and nothing has been said about it in "our local newspaper".

I very patiently waited two-three weeks before calling, but even my messages go unanswered. You did call me regarding the BB gun tournament in January but nothing ever came of it.

Tom Mooradian, Sports Editor

With second place J & D Auto falling two games off the pace, and Studio Lounge playing the role of champ perfectly, it looks as if it's all over in the Westland Women's Softball League.

Studio blasted the Power Packs 31-1 behind a 45-hit assault and also picked up a 24-2 victory at the expense of the same team in a make-up game that was postponed earlier in the season due to rain.

The two victories boosted the league-leading Studio an untainted 10-0 record, up, J & D, is sporting an 8-1 mark.

Winning pitcher Sharon Turflinger helped her cause by belting two homers and three singles to drive in six runs, while teammates Val Finfrock and Robert Topolsky also enjoyed excellent nights at the plate. Ms. Finfrock also drilled a round-tripper, doubled and added four singles for four RBIs, and Ms. Topolsky drove in four runs on three singles, a double and a triple.

Loser Barb McRoberts gave up 45 hits while the Power Packs got 12, two each by Colleen Dudonis and Tonya Riggs. Karen Dugas drove in a run with a single.

Studio erupted for six runs in the first inning off of McRoberts in the rained-out, make-up game and coasted to an easy 24-2 victory. McRoberts, though, had the satisfaction of ruining Lenore Dreyfus' bid for a shutout when she latched on to a two-run double. Sandy Clark checked in with three hits and Riggs collected two for the losers.

Maureen McIntosh hammered five singles while Connie Smith and Jean Sisson each had four for the winners. The three players split nine RBIs between them.

J & D Auto kept its slim hopes alive with an 8-6 victory over last place Token Lounge. The winners put five runs on the board in the first inning, then added three more in the third, but Token refused to quit and thanks to the bats of Lois Smith, Kathy Mendal and Pat Mayo came back to make it a close game. Smith and Mendal each had two hits and an RBI while Mayo singled and tripled off of winning pitcher Linda Sylvester.

Losing hurler Cheryl Nichols gave up an equal number of hits (15), three of those going to Rita Woods and two to Shelly Arner. Lisa Paccaro homered and doubled and accounted for two RBIs.

Johnny Shell, seated in a two-way tie for third place with VFW Bova Post, was an upset victim as Hudson's of Westland rallied to a 11-10 win. Johnny's blew a 9-4 second inning lead as losing pitcher Jan Anzalone was tagged for four runs in the bottom of the fourth, two in the sixth and the decisive run in the last inning.

Johnny's wasted Karen Austin's two homers and double which paved the way for five runs batted in. Becky Cole and Sue Chopp each had two hits.

Diane Wacki, who had only one hit, made it count as she singled in the winning run. Terri McKnight and Pat Hughes each had three hits while Karen Creek laced two singles.

VFW Bova Post broke open a close game with a seven-run surge in the sixth to turn back Westway trucking 17-8 as Sheryl Chomiuk was awarded the victory on a six-hitter. Two of those hits went to Laura LaCroix who homered and tripled while Kathy Coatsworth had a pair of singles and two RBIs.

Losing pitcher Pam Kramer had her problems with Kary Beteau who missed hitting for the cycle when she failed to get a homer. Her single, double and triple accounted for three RBIs. Karen Lowery and Becky Brown checked in with two hits apiece.

Westland Lock & Key, which had an easy time with Crestwood Dodge in their first encounter, whipping their rivals 21-10, found their adversary ready the following day and eked out a narrow 11-9 win in their second meeting. Winning pitcher Tammy Meno belted a two-run eighth inning homer that resolved the problem. Crestwood tied it up in the bottom of the sixth, forcing the game into extra innings. Westland scored six times in the second, but Crestwood came right back with five of their own runs in that inning.

Jan Crawford collected four singles and Patty Bailly had three for the winners. Bev Liverance, the losing pitcher, served up 22 hits.

Big victory

Beyer wins Motor City tennis title

Wayne's Todd Beyer, one of the top tennis players in the area and Great Lakes 8 Conference last season, launched his amateur career with an impressive victory at the Motor City Junior Tennis Open.

Beyer, seeded third in the tournament, destroyed the top and second seed, to capture his first United States Lawn Association sanctioned tournament.

In the finals, the Wayne netter met and overcame Detroit's Ricky Crowe in two sets. Beyer won the first set 7-5, then posted an identical score in winning the second set.

"I felt real good," said Beyer, who was handicapped in his senior year at Wayne Memorial with an ankle injury that kept him sidelined in the stretch. "Physically and mentally I was ready for this tournament."

Beyer launched his bid for the 18-and-under boys title by defeating Dearborn's Chris Sitek 6-3 and 6-0, then he ran up against Detroit's Kelvin Wise who was no match for the Wayne netter. Todd eliminated

Wise from the running 6-0 and 6-0. In the quarterfinals, Beyer took on Greg Sims, another Detroit, and ousted him 6-1 and 6-2 and then awaited Drew Mascaria of Grosse Pointe Shores in the semi-finals.

That match ended in Beyer's victory in two sets (6-2 and 7-5). The victory enabled him to clash with Crowe, the No. 1 seed and Beyer finished him off 7-5 and 7-5 to come away with the first place trophy.

Beyer has signed a letter of intent to attend Northwood Institute in Midland this fall. The good-looking netter has received a full-ride scholarship.

U of D signs Jeff Gill

Jeff Gill, who prepped and starred at New Boston High, signed to play baseball with the University of Detroit, head baseball coach Bob Miller announced today.

Gill, a catcher, is a 6-1, 200-pounder who is coming to U-D after two outstanding seasons at Monroe Community College.

"I am particularly enthused about Gill who is a take-charge player and has the potential to step right in and replace Pat Srock," Coach Miller said. "He has great speed for a catcher and swings the bat well, leading his team in hitting with a .320 average last spring. He picked us over Bowling Green, Kent State and Aquinas."

U of D was 33-16 last season, its second winningest season in history, but lost six seniors three starting players and its 1-2 mound punch.

Gabriel, Horrey take Canton golf lead

Second-round leaders have half-point edge

Ray Horrey and Jim Gabriel established themselves as second round title contenders as the Canton Parks and Recreation Department began the second half of the season at Fellows Creek.

Horrey and Gabriel grabbed four points from Frank McGee and Hank Johnson to move into first place, a mere half-point over the runners-up, Don Ponte and Glen Ponte who have eight points.

The Pontes stayed close on the leaders' heels by sweeping five points from Ron Huffman and Jerry Yuchas. Don turned in his best round of the year as he carded a 46 for nine holes.

Gary Rehberg also shot a 38 to tie Tony Valenti for the top round of the evening. Glen Ponte, Paul Oberhelman and Jack Koers all checked in with 41s.

Here are last week's scores:

Gabriel-Horrey 4, McGee-Johnson 1; Ponte-Ponte 5, Hoffman and Yuchas 0; Lawrence and Thomas 3 1/2, Valenti and Kraft 1 1/2; Rehberg and Riggs 5, Stuebben and Seewald 0; Koers and Koers 4 1/2, Ryan and White 1/2; Lyndrup and Lally 2 1/2, Oberhelman and Mattingly 1 1/2; Natoli and Mogelnicki 5, Young and Canning 0; Glover and Shirk 3, Brock and Taylor 2; Lapiere and Argonis 3, Sheets and Eminger 2; Watt and Limbley 5, Pietryka and Slade 0.

Here are the standings for the week: Horrey and Gabriel 8 1/2; Ponte and Ponte 8; Oberhelman and Mattingly 7 1/2; Koers and Koers 7 1/2; Sheets and Eminger 7; Rehberg and Riggs 7; Lawrence and Thomas 6 1/2; Kraft and Valenti 6; Ryan and White 5 1/2; Lyndrup and Lally 5 1/2; Stuebben and Seewald 5; Argonis and Lapiere 5; Watt and Lindley 3;

McGee and Johnson 3; Glover and Shirk 3; Brock and Taylor 2 1/2; Canning and Young 2; Hoffman and Yuchas 0; and Pietryka and Slade 0.

Meanwhile, a two-way tie for first between Ginnie Johnson and Lou Skotzke continues in the Canton Ladies Golf League as the two frontrunners each took five points in their latest outing.

Bev Green shot her best round of the week and she pulled up with a 51. Four women posted their best scores of the year - Betty Lowing carded a 56, Deirdre Vesnaugh had a 62, while Mary Jane Faussett and Johnson turned in with 65 and 74, respectively.

Here are the standings for the second round, first week: Lou Skotzke 10, Ginnie Johnson 10, Mary Kay Frey 9, Titi Himmelberger 9, Denise Chapman 9, Bev Green 9, Silvia Dickinson 8, Pauline Pryor 8, Estelle Heidt 7, Irene Karnish 7, Betty Williams 5, Betty Lowing 5, Mary Jane Faussett 5, Deirdre Vesnaugh 5, Helen McGee 4, Kay Nichols 4, Marge Trapp 4, and Betty McDougall 4.

In the Canton Senior Golf League, Bill Begg and Floyd Vickery combined for eight points to increase their lead by 10 points over second place Emma and Gary Aleman. The league-leaders have 55 points to the Aleman's 45. Judy Bond and Ralph Dietz have 43, while Marge Campbell and Hilda Hayden are in fourth place with 26 points. Holding down the final berth are Skip Keller and Milton Roettger who have 21.

Dietz scored four and Keller totaled five points for other individual scores. Ralph also posted the best round of the week when he turned in a 45, one stroke better than Begg's 46.

It's time to register for 'Over 30'

The Wayne-Westland Men's "Over 30" Hockey Association will be taking registrations for new players on Sunday, Sept. 10 from 3 to 6 p.m. at the Wayne Arena.

Interested players and teams should have proof of age and residency at the time of registration.

Since there will be few openings in the league, Wayne and Westland residents will be taken first. Non-residents will be placed on a waiting list and called if openings become available.

Players who registered last year but then didn't play will be required to re-register this year.

Before being placed on teams, new registrants will be required to skate for rating purposes on September 17 at the arena.

For further information please contact Dennis Broge at 728-0708 or Ron Hays at 729-1933.

Big Bill's gets 'A' share of Westland title

Big Bill's long-awaited rematch with Studio Lounge in the Westland Parks and Recreation's Class A League took place last week and Bill's edged their arch-rivals 16-15.

Bill's hard-fought victory forced Studio Lounge to hand over a share of the regular season championship as both teams wound up the campaign with 16-2 records.

Studio spotted winning pitcher Lee Callaway and Big Bill's six runs in the first inning then played catch-up the rest of the game. After trailing 9-5 going into the top of the third, Studio countered by putting six runs on the board to take the lead momentarily 11-9, but six runs by Bill's in the bottom of the inning put the winners ahead, 15-11.

Studio didn't give up. It rallied again, this time for three runs in the fourth and came within one run of tying it up, but Bill's struck the crucial blow in the bottom of the fifth and made a run stand up as the margin of victory.

Callaway helped his cause with three singles and a homer that went over the fence. Teammates Perry Pappas and Dick Saylor also looked good at the plate. Pappas had four hits, including an over-the-fence clout, while Saylor belted a homer, double and single off of loser Tony Pilarski.

Pilarski checked in with a pair of singles and a double for four runs batted in. Dennis Kesick counted two singles and an over-the-fence roundtripper while Bud Daniels latched on to three hits.

In other Major Division games, Studio had little trouble with the last place Rockets as the co-champs won a convincing 22-8 victory. Daniels again starred at the plate as he drilled one over the fence and got four singles off of loser Bob Roberts. Roberts, who gave up 29 hits, served up three doubles and a couple of singles to Dennis James who had four RBIs. Mike Kusutich knocked in three runs on three doubles and a single.

Winner Ron Jones scattered 13 hits, delivering two each to John Irwin, Paul LaFortune and Larry Brogan.

In the only other Major game, Shoppe Around subdued the Rockets 18-11 as Bill Pierce hit a couple over-the-fence and knocked in three runs with four hits. Teammates Barry Anderson and Guy Burke each had four hits, Burke sending oone in orbit over the fence.

Winning pitcher Larry Holt gave up three hits to Bob Eisminger who had a pair of doubles, while Jim Hawkins socked two doubles and Irwin had a double and single. Roberts was the losing pitcher.

The Westland Warriors saw their nine-game winning streak come to an end at the hands of Evergreen Sprinklers who rallied for nine big runs in the bottom of the sixth to hand the Blue Division leaders their first setback of the season.

Both teams banged out 19 hits but pitcher Larry McConnell had his hands full with Joe Budreau, Don Toor and Tom Byrd who led the winner's attack. Budreau and Toor came close to hitting for the cycle but failed to get homers. Their six hits shoved home four runs while Byrd had a single and double.

The Warriors got four hits from Paul Lojinski who collected a couple of singles, a double and triple. Kevin Miller also had four hits, including a triple and Don Dumouchelle had three singles off of winning pitcher Jeff Combs.

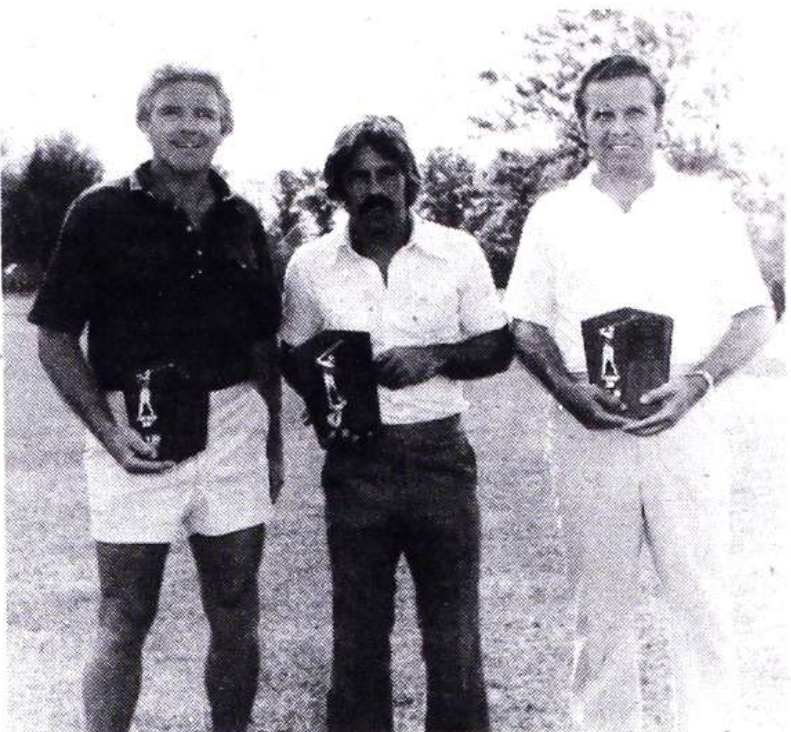

Randy Sheeter pounded out two home runs, a triple and double to lead the Unwantseds to a 21-9 victory over P & P Distributors. Tim Thorton chipped in with three hits and two RBIs while Bob Thorton singled and homered for the winners.

Winning pitcher Mike McHariter gave up three hits to Roger Finch, Stewy Stein and Dennis Neidy who got the loser's lone homer.

Dennis Neidy, who served up 26 hits, was the loser.

Quo Vadis, seated in fourth place, struck for four runs ion the first inning and hung on to beat Argo Paints 7-3. Jack Moriaty had three hits, including a homer, while Sam VarnHagen had two, also a homer, and Mark Bjeck checked in with three hits for the winners.

Scott Evans and Randy Adkins each had two hits for the losers.

Piscopink fired a sizzling 8-under par 136 to retain the title he won a year ago. McKee finished second in Wayne with a respectable 149, while Sanford carded a 152 for third place.

Sports Meridian

I do realize there are a lot of sports to report, but does it have to always be the same people who get their names in the paper?

How much space would it take to mention winners of a BB gun tournament or a bicycle rodeo? I also was informed that the "Eagle" would be taking pictures of the Rodeo winners. Surely there is enough room on the sports pages to print one of the photos.

It is really unfair to the "little sports" not to be recognized. They try very hard and need encouragement. Someday they may be the great athletes of Wayne.

I thank you for your time in reading this letter and hope in the future the little sports get a corner at the bottom of the page.

Sincerely
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Siese.

Second Flight Wayne pacesetters

Though they had their problems the first day, Michael Brown (from left), Joe Casey and Mark Howard rallied to earn trophies for their efforts in Wayne's second flight at the recently-staged City Championship Golf Tournament held at Fellows Creek. Casey's 165 two-day, 36-hole total gave him the first place trophy for the flight while Howard had a one stroke edge, 174-175, over Brown for second place honors.

Westland's Red Division leader has pesky challenger

Though they have a perfect 9-0 record, Joe Thomas, the Westland Minor-Red Division softball leader can't rest on its laurels.

Standing in the wing is an opportunistic Century 21 Club which is eagerly awaiting the leader's slip. Century buried Jamie's 37-3 to stay close behind the leaders, while Joe Thomas turned back Tom Macerie's for their ninth successive victory.

Both Joe Thomas and Maceries scored three runs in the first and also exchanged four runs in the second inning, however, Thomas' tallied six unanswered times in the fourth and sewed up the decision with an eight run fifth inning.

Bob Ferrari, the winning pitcher, gave up a total of eight hits, but two of those were homers to Ken Forbes and Ray Brauer. Eric Radcliff checked in with a single and double.

Losing hurler Tony Kiersche couldn't silence Jim Tromeur's bat which accounted for four hits, two of those homers, and four RBIs. Bob Thaxton slammed out three doubles and a single, driving in two runs and teammate Terry Hoffman drilled a homer and a pair of singles for three RBIs.

Meanwhile Century 21 served notice that it still has its eyes on the title as the second place team erupted for 14 runs in the fourth inning to humble Jamie's. Bob Fullerton scattered 10 hits to earn the victory. He gave up two hits to Mickey Cawatzka and Mark Veracka.

Ray Fox slashed three homers and doubled and singled off of loser Manny Gonzalez who served up six RBIs to the Century 21 slugger. Brian Hopton had four hits and Steve Fedulchuk checked in with a single, double and homer.

In other Red Division games, Who Cares took care of Westside Rustproofing 29-9, while Playmate Lounge disposed of Tri-Way Control 19-9.

Westside's Pat Tajak gave up a total of 28 hits with Keith Trudell banging out two homers, a double and single and driving in three runs. Larry Kwitkowski got a homer,

Romulus All-Stars 2nd best

If the cliché about finishing second means anything, then Romulus' All Stars will try harder next year.

The South Senior League All-Stars wound up second in the Area 1 Tournament staged at Lincoln Park last week.

In the opening round, South faced a powerful contingent from Taylor Northwest and was subdued 6-0 as Dwayne Parker was touched for seven hits, including a pair of home runs to take the loss.

Romulus managed to get two harmless singles both by Pat Mahon.

Romulus faced elimination in the second game, but a last of the seventh, two-out rally enabled it to edge Brownstown 8-7.

In that pivotal inning, Parker drew a walk, then Mark Doss reached base on an error and Dwayne Cobb also walked, loading the bases.

On a 3-2 pitch, Scott Wilcox walked to force in the tying run. Mahon then drilled a single to center, chasing home the winning run.

Marty Knight gave up 11 hits in chalking up the victory.

Exploding for 19 hits and 16 runs, Romulus eliminated Lincoln Park North 16-11 as Chuck Rhode led the attack with a perfect five for five at the plate. Parker, pitching with a day's rest, was credited with the victory. He was tagged for 12 hits.

Romulus got its second shot at Taylor and outthit the eventual champ, 7-5, but couldn't get the safeties at the right time and consequently fell 3-0. Mahon was the losing pitcher, yielding five singles.

Wayne Marathon set for Saturday

If you're interested in running five miles, Wayne is the place to be this Saturday.

The Wayne Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a marathon 5-mile run and the age brackets range from 11 and under up to 45 and over. There is a pre-registration requirement and those anticipating on competing should sign up at the Wayne Recreation Department, Howe and Annapolis.

The run is a build-up to the Summer Festival which will also include a 5-mile run.

There is a $3 entry fee and the divisions will be broken down to six divisions: 11 and under; 12 to 14; 15 to 18; 19-30; 31 to 45; and 46 and over. The run is open to men and women.

Every runner who participates — no matter if he finishes or not — will receive a T-Shirt which will have "Wayne Marathon" written on the front.

Rick Brewis is in charge of the event and questions should be directed to him at the Wayne Community Center (721-7400).

Salvaging trophies

Svelte Dave Kosteva (at left) put together rounds of 80 and 79 for 159 to edge out Ronald Hawkins by one stroke for the second place plaque in the first flight of the Canton Township division of the City

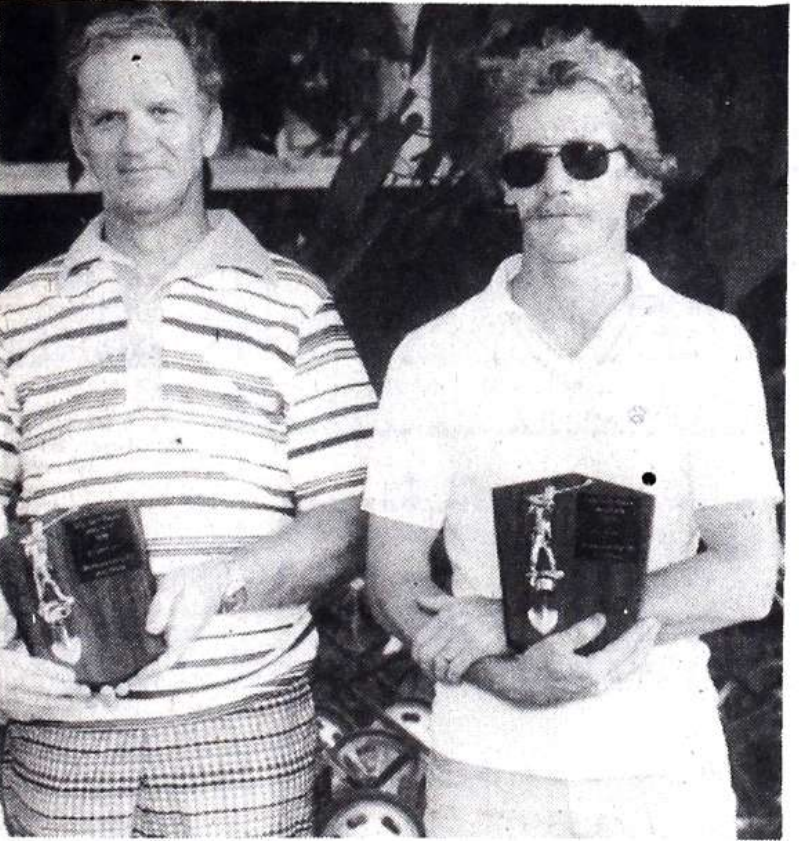

Championship Golf Tournament. However, Kosteva surrendered the first place trophy to Olin Hunsucker who posted a 158 total during the two-day ordeal at Fellows Creek.

Westland's championship

Murray Brooks (not pictured) was in a rush to get home, but the Westland golfer showed poise and class as he won the Westland City Title at the City Championship Golf Tournament. Brooks edged runnerup Bob Weibel (at left) by two strokes during the two-day tournament at Fellows Creek. Robert Thomas finished third, five strokes off the winner's pace.

Don Mullett didn't find any serious opposition in Garden City's first flight and won a convincing 16 stroke victory over Tim Morelli (at left) at the City Championship Golf Tournament. Morelli finished third behind David Jaska Jr.

Wayne crowns champs

Tastee Freez claims women's title

It's all over in Wayne Parks and Recreation's women's softball league.

Tastee Freez wrapped up the 1978 crown with a perfect 11-0 record, destroying Commercial Brakes 14-1 in their final outing of the regular season.

That victory lifted the newly-crowned champs to a two-game edge over J & D Auto, the only team that had a chance to catch the undefeated champ.

Tastee fiddled around with Commercial until the last inning when it batted around and put nine runs on the board to back up winning pitcher Stacy Sailus' five-hitter. Ms. Sailus helped her own cause with three hits, while Cherri Fargo drilled a triple and collected two other hits. Kim Schwartz belted a homer and singled, driving in three runs for the winners.

Martha Callegari was charged with the loss. She tripled in the only run while Jane Cipey got a double for the losers.

J & D took its frustrations out on Turner Demmer as the runnersup blasted their rivals 16-2. Eight of hits went for extra bases as Cheryl Sollice hammered two homers and singled and drove in four runs for the winners. Teammates Lou Hoeft and Gay Diehl also homered. Ms. Hoeft collected a pair of doubles as well and Sue Johnson contributed a single and double.

Mary Porter, the winning pitcher, served up a pair of singles to Ellen Doolin and a triple to Sue Dubke. Maureen McClintosh singled home one of the two runs. Loser Pat Bledsoe was the victim of J & D onslaught.

In other games, Jake's Lounge played a time abbreviated game with Unistrut, chalking up their sixth win in 12 starts, 16-5. The victory was highlighted by Cindy Komrous' grand slam homer. She also singled. Kathy Perusse also homered and singled and Karen Vickers had a pair of hits off of losing pitcher Linda Bye who gave up 12 hits.

Donna Fowler, the winner, pitched a two-hitter, losing her bid for a coveted no-hitter when Cindy Mackey and Cindy McBrine each singled.

Earl Keim wrapped up the season with an 18-7 victory over Standard Federal. The winners erupted for 11 runs in the bottom of the first after Standard tilted the boards for five in the same inning.

Terry Richardson slammed a homer and had two doubles and Kathy Podgorney knocked out three singles off of losing pitcher Kathy Blackmore who got two of her team's six hits. Sandy Seamen had a pair of doubles and a single for the losers.

double and a pair of doubles while Ted Rizer had four hits, including a pair of doubles.

Paul Becker drove in three of the nine Westside runs on two doubles and a single and mates Dick Westerlund and Larry Griffin split four hits between them. Griffin's two hits went for extra baggers.

Jim Graham gave up a homer to Scott Kinder and a couple of singles each to Dave Abbe and Dave Velonek, but survived to beat Tri-Way thanks to his team's 28-hit assault on loser Dennis Jackson.

Ed Klonowski hit for the cycle for the winners and chased in five runs while Dave MacDonald had four hits, including two doubles. Rich Marahew drilled three hits, two going four roundtrippers and he also doubled to account for three RBIs.

Over in the White Division, Crestwood Dodge remains in control with an 8-0 record with Westland Florists trailing by two games (8-2). In the only game reported in last week, the Family held off McCurdy Optical to win its sixth in nine starts, 9-5.

Ed Spontack, the losing pitcher, got two hits off of his winning counterpart Dan Covert who gave up a homer and a couple of singles to John Johnson and three singles to Mike Burns.

Dave Hysko homered for the winners and mates John Bullard and Gordy Smith checked in with three and two hits respectively.

Westland athletes fare well at Metro Youth Fitness Meet

Fitness champs

Lukonski, chinning, Brian Swasey, 60-yard dash and Christopher Stars, shuttle relay. (Not available at the time of the photo were Susan Gilliard, who won a medal in the softball throw, and Marcus Cofield, who earned a medal as a member of the shuttle relay team.)

Westland Parks and Recreation had the best 12-13 year old shuttle relay team at the Metropolitan Youth Fitness Program state meet held last Thursday at Kensington Park.

The foursome of Allison Gilliard, Veronica Everett, Christopher Starks and Roger Cofield emerged from the 60-team field with the gold medal in the Class B shuttle relay for 12 and 13 year olds. The foursome attend Frazier School in Westland.

Frazier also had a second place with Brian Swasey who was the second runner to cross the finish line in the Class B 50-yard dash.

The Westlanders had third places in the Class A girls' softball throw as Susan Gilliard of Frazier tossed the ball 151 feet; in the Class B division of chinning Dawn Lukonski placed third with seven successful chins, while in the Class B 50-yard dash, Michael Henderson was third.

There were approximately 60 cities represented in the Metro Youth state finals. The young athletes had to qualify in their city meets before advancing to the state.

Romulus sets physical exam dates

All boys and girls who will be competing in athletics at Romulus High School this year are urged to complete their physical examinations. The examinations will be conducted at the high school on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 8-9 from 3 p.m., according to athletic director, Bill Hardy.

Hardy reminded athletes that, according to the Michigan School Athletic Association rules, no athlete may compete in competitive sports without a physical.

The examination will cost $3 and both junior and senior high athletes, boys and girls, should report. If there are any questions, contact Hardy at the high school (941-2170).

Wayne, Westland tennis tourney this weekend

The Wayne Parks and Recreation Department has expanded its summer tennis tournament to include residents of Westland. The tournament, which will be conducted the first two weekends of August, is opened to boys and girls, men and women, residing in the Wayne-Westland School District. Competition will be staged in both singles and doubles. On Friday, Aug. 4, the boys and girls' 17 and under singles competitions will be held, while on Saturday, Aug. 5, men and women's singles are slated to go. Both the Attwood and Wayne High School tennis courts will be utilized. The age groups for the juniors are: boys 17 and under and girls, 17 and under will play Aug. 4 from 10 a.m. and 11:30 a.m., respectively. The men's competition is scheduled for 9 a.m. on Aug. 5, while the women's singles will get underway at 10:30 a.m. on Aug. 5. Any division with less than eight entries will not be held and there is a $1.50 entry fee. Trophies will be awarded to the first and second place finishers in each of the divisions. Further information may be obtained by telephoning the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department at 721-7400.

Good reason why Pistons drafted Long

It shouldn't seem surprising that University of Detroit senior co-captains and All-American Terry Tyler and John Long were the first two players selected by the Detroit Pistons in the 1978 NBA draft, both picked off in the second round.

They've been about that close since they were 1974 Michigan Prep All-Staters and All-Americans, among the most highly recruited players in the state that season and early successes at U-D.

The two were part of a bumper crop of yearlings brought in by then-Titan Coach Dick Vitale, now their coach with the Detroit Pistons. The Titans that year landed virtually the entire Michigan All-State Team as Turono Anderson, Dave Grauzer and Kevin Kaseta formed the hub of Vitale's first recruiting efforts.

Long, a 6-5 scoring machine, averaged 25 ppg as a prep junior and 23 as a senior on his way to All-American mention. He also ran cross-country in the fall at suburban Romulus High School. At U-D, he went on to become the school's all-time top scorer with 2167 points and set records for games played, field goals, field goal attempts while rating eighth in career rebounding. Always a great outside jump-shooter, Long developed a strong inside game as well as an ability to drive.

Tyler, on the other hand was a 6-7 jumping jack who had to play the middle in college against consistently taller foes. The Detroit Northwestern grad also gained All-American acclaim despite not being a super scorer. He always was a rebounder and shot-blocker as his 16 blocks in an All Star game against a touring Russian team showed. At U-D, Tyler finished third on the all-time point parade at 1649 as well as third in rebounding in 1151. In his senior season he led the nation in blocked shots with 172 while rating 12th in rebounding. He matched Long in career games played.

Tyler has his degree in sociology while Long is little more than a semester away from his U-D diploma.

As collegians they were known as "Mr. Inside (Tyler)" and "Mr. Outside (Long)" or even more appropriately "Thunder (Tyler)" and "Lightning (Long)". But the mark of greatness was there in their prep careers.

by Chet Kosin

There are a number of maintenance and repair tasks to do on the family car that are best left to specialists. These include all major overhauls, work involving such crucial systems as brakes and steering, as well as relatively infrequent jobs that may require expensive special equipment. These would include wheel alignment and exhaust system replacement. There are a lot of jobs, however, that the home handyman can perform safely and efficiently. To do them, of course, one must have the right tools, most of which are inexpensive and pay for themselves quickly.

Bound for Bay City

These talented Belleville Little League Senior Division All-Stars, all 13-15 years old, advanced this week to the state finals at Bay City. The fast pitch softball district and sectional champs are slated to battle Milwood at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Aug. 3-5 double elimination tournament. Pictured left to

Belleville girls in finals

The Belleville girls' Little League Senior Division All-Stars swept four out of five games in district and sectional play last week to reach the state finals for the second year in a row.

The 13-15-year-old fast-pitch softball squad pounded out a 19-0 victory over Marine City in the Sectional championship game to earn the right to the Bay City tournament.

Manager Dick Nota's hard-hitting squad slaughtered four of their five opponents to earn a trip to the state finals.

In the district finals at Belleville's Little League diamond, the local All-Stars walloped Lincoln Park, 17-2, behind the stellar pitching of Sue Meyer. Nancy Wisniewski rapped out two-for-four and made two spectacular plays in left field to pace the win.

Vickie Foust, Toni Grieve, Jackie Moore and Sue Meyer each added two hits and Kim Beckley had 1-for-1, four walks and scored four times.

Lincoln Park turned the tables in the second game, taking a 5-4 decision in 8 innings. But Belleville bombed Lincoln Park, 20-3, in the district final.

Winning pitcher Kathy Hardy rapped out three hits in five tries. Toni Grieve had five hits and 4 runs; Kim Beckley, 4 runs and 5 runs; Vickie Foust had 4 hits and 7 runs; batted-in and Rozanne Wegienka had 3-for-3.

In the Sectional final, Belleville blasted Marine, 13-2, and 19-0, to move to the state finals. The local team got only six hits in the first game, but was aided by 14 walks, nine of them coming in a big 8-run third inning.

In the 19-0 title win, Kim Beckley pitched a four-hitter and gave up no walks. Vickie Foust had three hits, four RBI's and made three great plays at shortstop.

Nancy Wisniewski had 3 hits and Kim Beckley, Toni Grieve and Debbie Stoll each added two hits.

2. In Memoriam

In Memory of Ronald Kudek, who left us July 30, 1977. Although we only knew you for such a short while your gentle face and patient smile With sadness we recall you had a kindly word for each. And died beloved by all. The voice is muffled and still the heart That loved us well and true. Ah, bitter was the trial to part From one so good as you. You are not forgotten loved Nor will you ever be. As long as life and memory last We will remember thee. We miss you now, our hearts are sore. As time goes by we miss you more. Your loving smile, your gentle face, No one can fill your vacant place. Sadly missed by your second family the "Hulls" wife Loretta and son Ronnie.

WANT ADS - THE 'UNFOOL'S' GOLD

Maybe there's gold in them there hills and maybe not. However, we do know of a 'mother lode' that never runs out.

It's called the Want Ads.

The treasure you can find in Classified consists of the great bargains available in a long list of merchandise and special services. People dig into Classified for such things as household furnishings, a new or better home, automobiles, large and small appliances, trucks, recreational vehicles, motor bikes, toys, musical instruments, CB radios,

TV sets, cameras, and sports equipment, just to list a few items.

If you don't dig the home repair scene, you can find all kinds of help in the Business Services directory.

For an easily accessible gold mine, you need look no further than the storage areas around the house or garage. Do a little prospecting. You'll find many discarded items that are still usable. Then give us a call, and we'll help you compose a quick-action 'Articles For Sale' ad.

There's gold in them there Want Ads!
